Thank you to all those who from near or far have contributed and continue to increase my knowledge of the Quran, women and men of the past as well as those of our present. Without them this work would not have been possible because on an individual level our contribution is just a drop in the ocean of accumulated knowledge.

Special thanks to Michel Cuypers for having popularized rhetorical analysis and for having applied it, with rigor and excellence, to part of the Qur'an text. The work that we present here is moreover a synthetic extension of his work, hoping to be worthy of it.

And a big thank you to those who gave us their constructive comments!

Suleyman.

Disclaimer

The information in this document reflects the current educated understanding of the Quran by the author of the site <https://reveniraucoran.fr/> . This understanding may change in the light of new information.

The search for truth is a perpetual quest and in this domain humility is essential.

Our objective is double:

- ✓ To propose a translation of the Qur'an text in its primary meaning, based on a reasoned methodology², which does not claim to close the door to other readings, but which seeks to identify the textual original meaning by sticking as much as possible to the text put in its context. In order not to overburden the translation and its structure, footnotes or notes at the end of suras will provide some additional studies or approaches on specific subjects (questions of vocabulary, themes, etc.).

- ✓ To Propose and highlight the literary composition³ of the Quran, which turns out to be a powerful exegetical tool in the understanding of the Quran by the Quran itself. It also makes it possible to limit the possible exegetical manipulations during an "atomist" reading of the Qur'an text.
For this purpose, the translation had to be organized in such a way that the coherence of the Qur'an discourse "is obvious". Look at the text differently, not through the lenses of our mode of reasoning but in accordance with the logic proposed by the text and the way in which it allows itself to be contemplated.

Finally, this work remains an "essay", so therefore show indulgence towards its author who is open for your "constructive" comments to improve both substance and form.

Best regards,

Sulayman.

² My methodology is detailed here : <https://reveniraucoran.fr/methodologie/> - However, we are well aware that any translation is "limiting", and that it will never be able to transcribe the full depth of the meaning of the Quranic letter. Thus, translation is a first fundamental approach to the text which should never cease to be enriched by individual or collective meditation sessions.

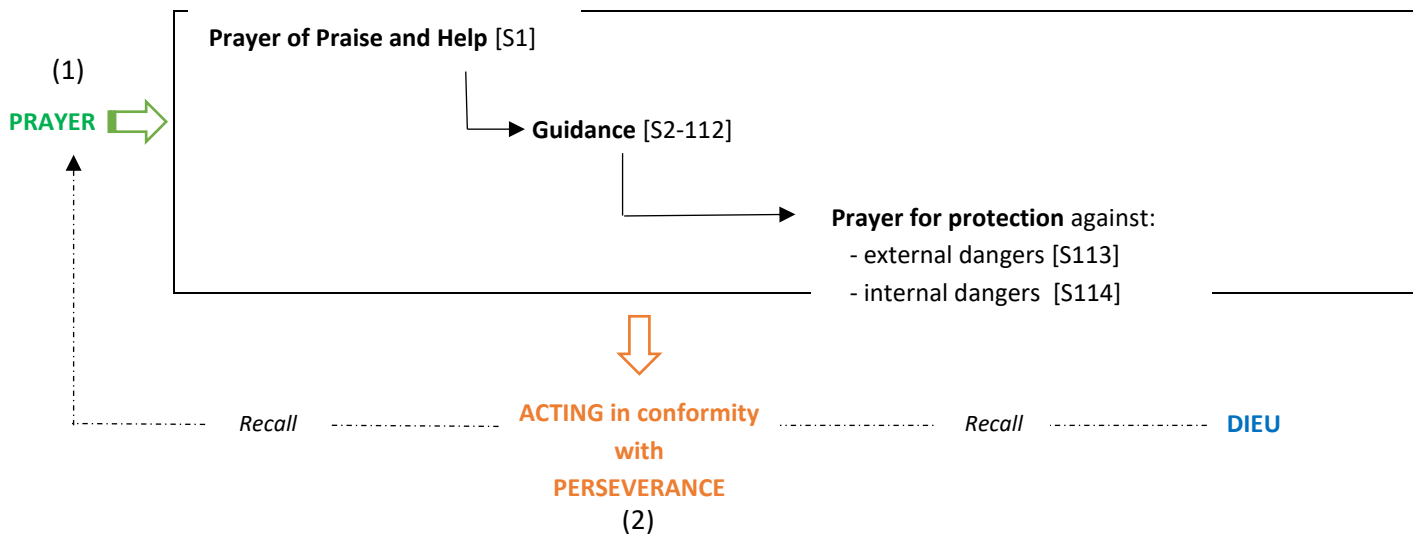

³ The work breakdown structure of the Quran has been made according to the principles of Semitic rhetoric, an introduction to which you will find here: <https://reveniraucoran.fr/rhetorique-semitique/>

Introduction

The Quran is divided into three main sections of unequal lengths:

- section 1 consisting of sura 1 "Al-Fatiha";
- section 2 made up of 111 suras which go from sura 2 to sura 112.
- section 3 consisting of the last two suras: the 113 and the 114.

This first division of the Quran into 3 sections makes it possible to draw what I call "the pathway of the faithful believer, who is in a recovery and sublimity process by-and-in the quranic messenger", as shown schematically below:

Sections 1 and 3 liturgically frame the main corpus of the Quran made up of 111 suras (the number 1 being the symbol of both the one and the multiple because the other numbers, except the 0, are only multiplications of this same number 1).

Moreover, as we will see as our work progresses, the suras form close and/or distant pairs with each other. They insert themselves, like Russian dolls, into larger meaningful wholes.

Thus, sura 2 forms a thematic and structural pair with sura 3, and sura 4 with sura 5 etc....up to suras 113 and 114. And sura 1 forms a pair with sura 114 while being linked to sura 2 which follows it.

All the elements of the Quran (from the smallest of two that constitute the letters to the higher formations) are interdependent among themselves and form a coherent and harmonious whole, like our universe. It is up to us to link them together through our meditation, letting ourselves be guided by the Quran, to Savor all its beauty and delicious subtlety.

Sura 1 - Al-Fâtiha (the opening)

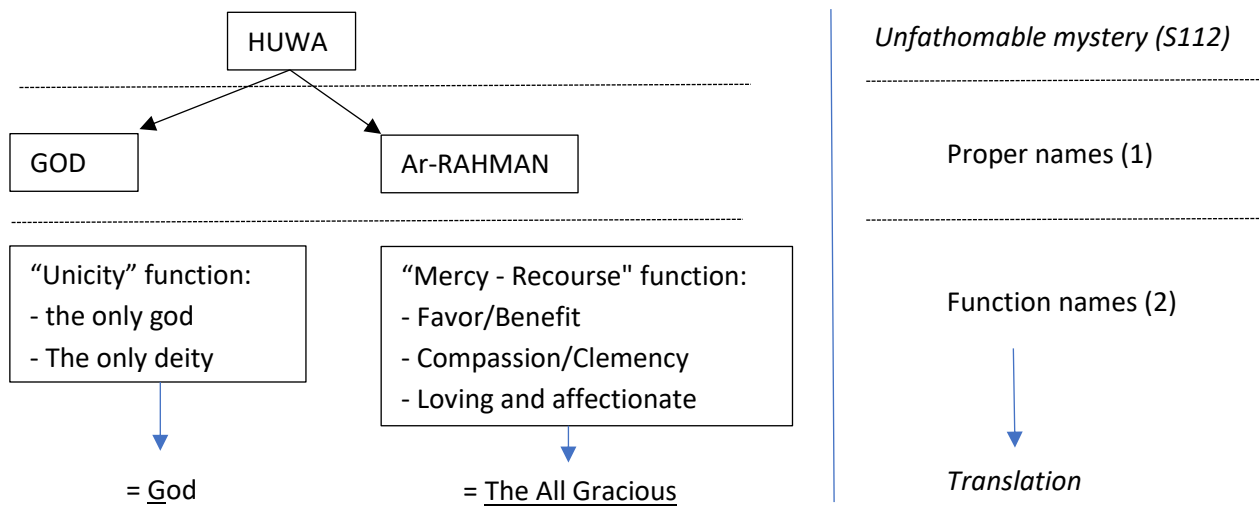

Part 1: "Constat"	{	In the name of Allâh, ar-Rahmân the Inexhaustible provider of Merciful . [1] Praise [2] (be) to Allâh, Master of all the Humans, [3]
	{	ar-Rahmân the Inexhaustible provider of Merciful , Ruler-reigning on the mandatory Accountability Day. [4]	--în

Central part: logical Diagnosis	{	You alone we WORSHIP , [5] You alone we ask for effective HELP .	--în
---------------------------------	---	---	------

Part 2: "Request for a "prescription"	{	Guide us to the straight path , [6] The path of those whom You have bestowed Your Favors (' alayhim), (+)
	{	Nor (gayr) those who incur wrath (' alayhim), (-) Nor (wa lâ) of those who go astray	--în

The concept of Allah/Divinity (ilâh) in Quranic Arabic, expressed as the absolute mystery by the appellation "He" (Huwa), has two proper names: Allah (derived from al-ilâh) and Ar-Rahmân.

Study of schemes:

- The form of the word Rahma is based on the fa'lân scheme, as for the word ghaḍbân in [20:8] which expresses an overflowing anger (to be in fury). This is an intensive rendered by the word "Full" when it comes to God.

- For the Ar-Rahim form, it is based on the fa'îl scheme which expresses the idea of "He who does not stop doing something in a successful way" (active participle), rendered by the term "Inexhaustible".

Remark: only God is "All Radiant of Merciful Tenderness" (unique form dedicated to God alone in the Quran) - [6:54] "... Your Master has prescribed Grace and Mercy to Himself..." -, then the form of the word Rahim can also qualify other beings than Him.

Study of the epithets associated with the root r-H-m:

- This translation by the word "Mercy" is justified by the associated epithets (104 times) to the name rahim (109 appearances at all):

- 66 times with the word Ghafour (Forgiver – the one who covers the faults),
- 9 times with the word Tawab (the One that blots out (faults) by returning to us),
- 9 times with the word Raouf (Tenderness),
- 13 times with the word Aziz (Power/noble-honourable),
- 6 times with the word Rahman,
- 1 time with the word Wadoud (full of love).

Deep study:

This form of generosity, of help is intimately linked to the bond of Matrix Love that connects him to his creatures:

- Raham designates the womb of the pregnant mother because the baby is fully taken care of, which relates to the matrix and, by extension, which has an initially nourishing, formative and protective value by pure grace and selflessly. The term Rahma is thus assimilated to a complete attention and love (care, love, compassion / Mercy, gentleness, facilitation, delicacy etc.).

- The sign-verse [96:2] and the term "Al-`Alaq" in relation to this matrix love.

We are born from a uterine bond hanging from our mother's womb, and by extension and symbolism it is this same type of bond that connects us to God. It is up to us not to deprive ourselves of its benefits by cutting the cord.

In conclusion, the image of maternal tenderness is at the root of divine mercy. [Definition of Tenderness by Wikipedia: "Tenderness is a form of affection, sensitivity and benevolent consideration towards another without any element of constraint that passion or desire might provoke. »

More complete formula: admiration (cause of praise) and absolute and unconditional praise (consequence of admiration) belong exclusively to Allah.

The expressions "Master of the worlds", "Benevolent Love" and "Sovereign reigning on the day of retribution" are part of this aroused admiration which in turn generates praise, compliments, thanks, etc.

"Elm" = "sign or mark or boundary (such as stones, piles of stones, mountains...) that indicates the limits and demarcation of two lands, or indicates the path to follow for a traveler in the desert.", hence "to know by means of signs".

- M. Gloton: "- The regular plural (jamæ sâlim) 'eâlamîn' applies to animate beings, and especially to human beings or personified things/realities. It should not be confused with the broken plural: eawâlim which concerns other beings, such as worlds or the Universe."

- Tabari: "The term 'âlamîna is the plural of the word câlam (world) which is itself already a plural since it is used to name the entirety of peoples and communities of the same era, or the entirety of beings that form one of these communities, or even the entirety of humans or the entirety of jinns."

Thus, when Pharaoh asks who is the "master of Men" in Surah 26 (verses 23 to 28), he replies that he is the master of all created things (in both their horizontal and vertical dimensions), including Men, and this for all time.

[26:23] Pharaoh said, "What is the Master of manifest realities?"

[26:24] He said, "The Master of the heavens and the earth and that which is between them (4), if you could be convinced!"

[26:25] He said to those around him, "Aren't you listening?"

[26:26] He said, "Your Master, and the Master of your first ancestors".

[26:27] He said, "Your messenger who was sent to you is possessed!" [26:27] He said, "Your messenger who was sent to you is possessed!"

[26:28] He says, "The Master of the East and the West, and that which is between them (5), if you could only reason!"

i.e. Accountability or Mandatory Deadline. The concept of Obligation is also included into the heart of this root.

[5]

"al-'Abd" means slave, a human being who is possessed.

In its abstract sense, it also applies to other beings, as Allâh's words show: "There is no one in heaven or on earth who will not come to the Beneficent God as a ('abdân') slave" [19:93]. In modern usage, it is commonly translated as "servant".

"al-'Ibādah" (= serve, worship-render a cult, obey) is derived from this word. Its inflection and meaning changes according to the context.

The expression "to be devoted to" seems to me the one that best encompasses the different dimensions of the word "'abada (عَبَدَ)", applied to Men.

The root of this word evokes the basic idea of being "glued, viscerally attached to a place", symbolized by the house/ب", with a double dimension of softness and harshness. Thus, this root was used to designate a fragrant and strongly scented plant that exerts a great attraction on camels. The camels become corpulent if they eat it and also begin to give more milk. This plant also produces thirst when the camels eat it and need water to drink. As such, this plant has three characteristics of attraction, to produce the sensation of thirst, which eventually produce the corpulence and abundance of milk. In the same way, the Arabs applied a grease-based coating to their boats, which made them ugly, but in the end, the boats were protected from the effects of water.

Thus, a devoted person is a person "who devotes his or her efforts to serve someone, to be pleasing to him or her". This person is considered worthwhile, with moral and/or material benefit induced. The three characteristics of the 'abd mentioned above can be found in the concrete uses of the Arabic language of the 7th century.

Finally, this devotion is found in two concrete attitudes around which our actions revolve:

- ✓ Rendering a cult: when we praise him, glorify him, praise him, express our love for him.
- ✓ Servitude: when we comply with his will and fulfil our duty, our obligation to be a worthy representative, lieutenant of God on earth, the instrument of this matrix of benevolent and unconditional love.

Al-Sirat - means an open and clear path, either that the traveller continues to swallow it without difficulty (by crossing it), or that it swallows thousands of travellers (idea of number). Furthermore, this root is used to signify:

- Swallowing something without chewing,
- A long sword that cuts through everything it falls upon. In other words, it swallows everything that falls on it.

It is a clear and already travelled path, as the Quran will remind us just after by evoking those who have already taken it and who have gained divine Favors. A safe path, therefore, which has proven itself, easy to find and to take without danger. This idea of ease and safety will be reinforced by the use of the adjective l-mus'taqīma which evokes the straightness, the rectitude of a given thing (That/the one which possesses this quality). Indeed, what could be safer in the desert than a marked and known trail, which moreover is not winding but straight, and which therefore brings us quickly to our destination. The perfect path par excellence.

Sura 2 - Al-Baqara (The Heifer)

In the name of God, the Full of Mercy, the Inexhaustible Merciful

Introduction

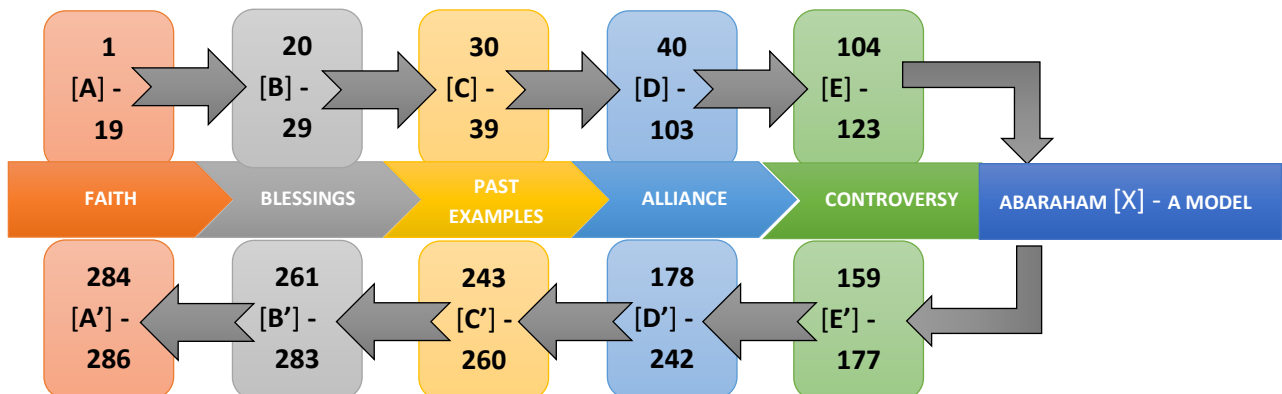

Surah 2 is the longest chapter of the Qur'an and was revealed over a period of over nine years after the Hegira. Sura 2 consists of 286 verses which are divided into 11 main passages based on central themes (verse numbers in parentheses):

1. True faith & not faith (1 - 19).
2. The blessings of God towards men (20 - 29).
3. Story of Adam (30-39).
4. Alliance of God with the sons of Israel (40 - 103).
5. Religious controversies (104 - 123).
6. Abraham as a reference (124 - 158).
7. Religious controversies (159 - 177).
8. Qur'an Messenger Alliance (178 - 242).
9. History of the messengers (243 - 260).
10. The blessings of men towards men (261 - 283).
11. True faith (284 - 286).

Its structure is specular of the concentric type: ABCDE / X / E'D'C'B'A'
Let's rearrange this list to highlight its structure:

- A True Faith & Non-Faith (1 - 19).
 --- B The blessings of God towards men (20 - 29).
 ----- C Story of Adam (30 - 39).
 ----- D Alliance of God with the sons of Israel (40 - 103).
 ----- E Religious controversies (104 - 123).
 ----- X Abraham as a reference (124 - 158).
 ----- E' Religious controversies (159 - 177).
 ----- D' Alliance of the Qur'an Messenger (178 - 242).
 ----- C' History of previous messengers (243 - 260).
 --- B' The blessings of Men for Men (261 - 283).
 A' True Faith (284 - 286).

Below is a schematic representation of Sura 2 and its concentric specular construction:

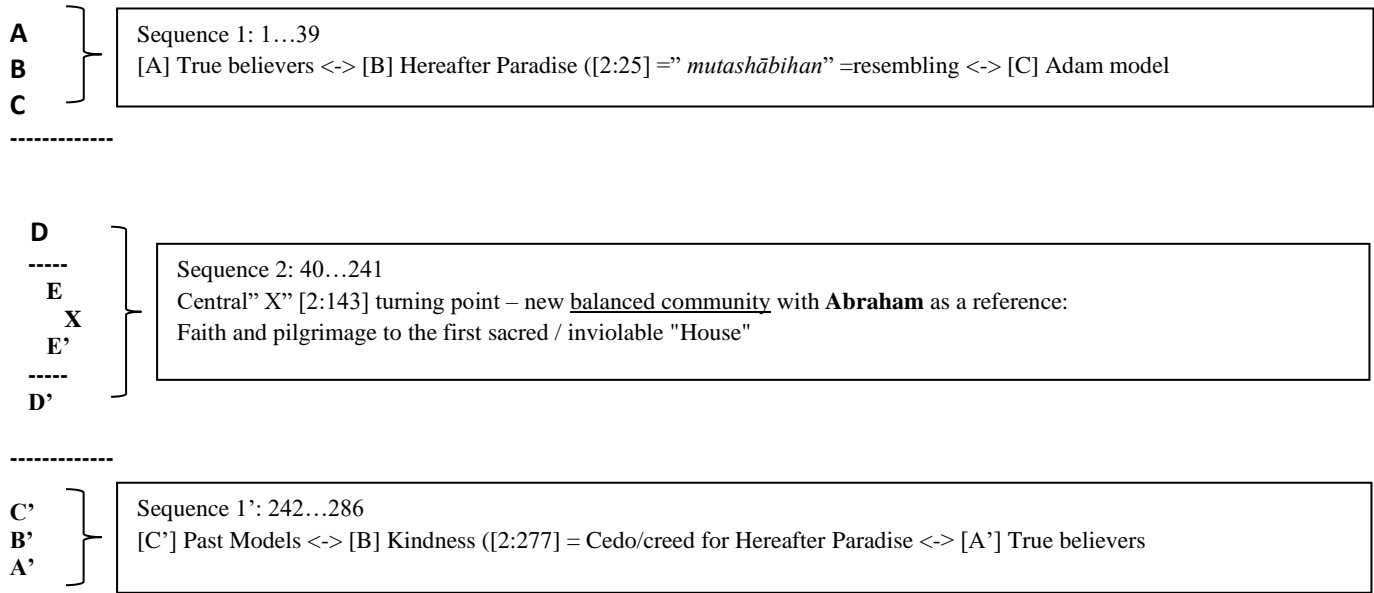

These 11 passages can themselves be grouped into 3 sequences:

- sequence n° 1 consists of passages A-B-C.
- sequence n° 2 consists of D-E-X-E'-D 'passages.
- Sequence n° 3 consists of C'-B'-A 'passages.

The Sequence n° 2 can be broken down into 3 sub-sequences:

- the sub-sequence D
- the E-X-E sub-sequence in a concentric structure with Abraham as a father figure and reference.
- the sub-sequence D'

Schematically this gives the following breakdown:

[A] –believers vs Unfaithful [1...19]

A - The believers [1]

-A-

[2:1] Alif Laam Meem.

[2:2] That⁴ (is) the Holy Writing. [2]

No doubt in it, a Guidance for those who are preoccupying to preserve themselves⁵:

-B-

Faith-trust

{ [2:3] Those who have faith in the one who is beyond the perceptible⁶,

-X-

And initiate the solemn prayer, [3]

And out of what We have provided them they spend widely and generously.

} Guidance

} Meritorious actions

-B'-

Faith-trust

{ [2:4] Those who have faith in what (is) sent down to you, and what was sent down from before you,
and in the Hereafter, they firmly believe.

-A'-

[2:5] Those (are) on Guidance from their Sustainer Master,

These are the ones who are the successful ones by their fruitful efforts.

} Guidance

B - The Meccan lost and allegory

[2:6] Indeed, those who deny (it) is the same to them,

Whether you warn them or warn not them,

They have no true faith.

[2:7] God has set a seal on their hearts and on their hearing, and on their vision (is) a veil.

For them (is) a great Correction.

⁴ That is the REQUIRED PRESCRIPTION in Sura 1

⁶ Traditional translation: inapparent / invisible / mystery / occult.

It refers to God if one makes an intertextual comparison of verses [2:3...4] with the following verse:

[4:162] "[...] have faith in what came down on you (1) and what came down before you (2). And those who are assiduous in Salât (3), give Zakât (4) and have faith in God (5) and in the Last Day (6), those are the ones We will receive an immense reward."

-> We find in this verse the 6 fundamental points that are mirrored with those of verses 2 and 3 of sura 2.

A' – The Hypocritical believers

-A-

[2:8] Of the people (are some) who say: “we have faith in God and in The Day After.”
But in their hearts and by their involvement they don't have faith.

} Only faith-belief

-B-

No faith-trust –

[2:9] They seek to deceive God and those who faith.
But they deceive nobody except themselves, and they don't realize (it).

[2:10] In their hearts (is) a disease, so that God has let them increase (in) disease.
and for them (is) a painful Correction because they used to lie.

-C-

[2:11] And when it is said to them "(Do) not spread corruption in the Earth,"
They said, "Only we (are) reformers."

} Corruption #
Meritorious actions

[2:12] Beware, indeed they themselves (are) the ones who spread corruption,
[and] but they don't realize (it).

-C'-

[2:13] And when it is said to them:" Have faith as other people had faith"
They said: "Should we have faith as the weak-minded they had faith?",

} Faith-Trust - Humble

Beware, certainly they themselves (are) the weak-minded.
[and] but they don't realize (it).

-B'-

No faith-trust –
inside “conscious”

[2:14] And when they met those who had faith, they said: "We had faith."

But when they were alone with their evil ones,
They said: "Indeed, we (are) with you, only we (are) mockers."

[2:15] God mocks at them and prolongs them in their transgression, they wander blindly.

-A'-

[2:16] They (are) the ones who bought [the] astraying in exchange for [the] guidance.
So not profited their commerce,
And they were not the guided ones.

B' - Allegories about Medina's strays

-A-

[2:17] Their example (is) like (the) example (of) the one who kindled a fire, then, when it illuminated what (was) around him
God took away their light and left them in darkness[es],
(so) they don't see.

} To initiate

[2:18] Deaf, dumb, blind so they will not return.

-A'-

[2:19] Or like a rainstorm from the Sky in it (are) darkness[es], and thunders and Lightnings.
They put their fingers in their ears from the thunderclaps (in) fear (of) [the] death.
And God (is) [the One Who] encompasses the deniers.

} To endure

[2:20] the lightning almost snatches away their sight.
Whenever it flashes for them, they walk by means of it,
And when it darkened on them, they stood (still).

And if had willed God He would certainly have taken away their hearing and their sight.
Indeed, God (is) on everything All-Powerful.

[B] – Divine BLESSINGS towards Men [20...29]

A- God is the Beneficent Creator

[2:21] Ô you people, be devoted to your Sustainer Master, the One Who created you and those from before you,
so that you may preserve yourselves.

Creation of Men + fathers (past)

[2:22] The One Who made for you the Earth as a floor/flat open and viable space, and the Sky an overarching canopy, and sent down from the Sky water, then brought forth therewith [of] the fruits (as) provision for you.

Heaven and Earth in the service of Man =
DIVINE BLESSINGS

So (do) not set up to God rivals while you, you know.

B- Qur'an revelation as a shield

Form of the Revelation

[2:23] And if you are in doubt about what We have revealed to Our obedient servant, then produce a textual unit like it and call your witnesses from other than God if you are truthful.

What to preserve?
From Fire

[2:24] But if you do not and never you will do, then preserve yourselves [from] the fire whose [its] fuel (is made of) men and stones, prepared for the deniers.

X- The Hereafter as a reward for the far-sighted

[2:25] And give good news (to) those who had faith and did [the] good and well deeds [4].

for them Gardens, [from] flow under them the rivers.

Every time they had been provided therefrom of fruit (as) provision, they said "This (is) the one which we were provided from before
And they were given therefrom (things) in resemblance.

And for them therein spouses purified, and they therein (be) abide indefinitely.

Hereafter: positive perspective and success

B'- Qur'an revelation as a guidance

[2:26] Indeed, God (is) not ashamed to set forth an example (like) an insignificant small thing and (even) something above it
Then as for those who had faith [thus], they will know that it (is) the truth from their Sustainer Master
And as for those who denied [thus], they say: "what (did) intend God by this example? "

He lets go astray by it many and He guides by it many.
And He does not let go astray by it except the defiantly disobedient.

[2:27] Those who break (the) Covenant (of) God from after its ratification, and [they] cut what has ordered God to be joined and [they] spread corruption on Earth,
Those, they are the losers.

A'- God is the Beneficent Creator

[2:28] How can you deny in God While you were dead then He gave you life?

then He will cause you to die,
then He will give you life,
then to Him you will be returned.

Creation of Men + hereafter (future)

He (is) the One Who created for you what (is) on the Earth all.
Then He directed his Will to the heaven and fashioned them (in) seven⁷ heavens.

Heaven and Earth in the service of Man = DIVINE BLESSINGS

And He of everything (is) All-Knowing.

⁷ Number 7 or 70 - This word was often used to imply an 'exaggeration' or an expression of 'multitude', 'several' or 'many', with a sense of plenitude, wholeness.

[C] – PAST : Adam, his offspring, and the graces of God [30... 39] [5]

A- Before the episode of Paradise: INTERNAL positive benefits (knowledge of names and divine breath)
 - 1st act = Preparation for his mission as representative

-A-

[2:30] And when said your Sustainer Master to the angels: "Indeed, I am going to place on Earth a manager".

They said [6] : "Will You place in it (one) who will spread corruption in it and will shed [the] blood[s], while we, [we] glorifying you by Your praise and we sanctifying to you ?

Angels' reaction:
doubt

He said, "Indeed, I, I know what you don't know".

-B-

[2:31] And He taught Adam all the names.
 Then He displayed them to the angels,
 Then He said, "Inform Me of (the) names of these if you are truthful."

Adam – received the names

[2:32] They said, "Glory be to You! No knowledge is from us except what You have taught us. Indeed You! You, (are) the All-Knowing, the All-Wise. "

-B'-

[2:33] He said, "O Adam! Inform them of their names."

And when he had informed them of their names.

Adam – inform the names

He said: " "Did not i say to you, Indeed, I, [I] know (the) unseen (of) the heavens and the Earth, And I know what you reveal and what you [were] conceal."

-A'-

[2:34] And when We said to the angels: "Be lowly [7] to Adam," [so], they became lowly,

Contrary to Iblis. He refused and was arrogant.
 He was of the Deniers.

Angels' reaction:
submissive # Iblis

X- Paradise : Ultimate Benefit => the Garden of delights and a place of quietness. 2nd act =
 Do not take Satan as an ally (first bad experience to remember!)

[2:35] And We said: "O Adam!" Dwell with quietness you and your spouse (at) Paradise.

and [you both] eat from it freely (from) wherever you [both] wish.
 But do not [you two] approach this [the] tree, lest you [both] be of the wrongdoers."

- Disobedience of ADAM and his spouse.

[2:36] Then Satan [8] removed [both of] them from it (divine order), and he got [both of] them out from the place and state in which they had been.

A'- After the episode of Paradise: EXTERNAL positive benefits (materials and spirituals). 3rd act = follow our father Adam who repents in case of faults and follows the divine speech.

And We said: " Be downgraded (all of you), some of you to others (as) enemy, and for you in the Earth (is) a dwelling place and a provision a determined period."

Descendants of Adam
 - Temporary Divine Physical Benefit [7:10]

-B-

[2:37] Then Adam received and accepted meaningful words from his Sustainer Master, To (his Sustainer Master) turned towards him.

Adam received communication from God & GOD absolve

-B'-

Indeed He! He (is) the Oft returning (to mercy), The Inexhaustible Merciful.

[2:38] We said, " Be downgraded from it all (of you),

And when, comes to you from Me Guidance then whoever follows My Guidance, [then] no fear (will be) on them and not they will grieve.

Descendants of Adam
 - Divine spiritual benefit

[2:39] And those who had deny and to treat Our Signs as falsehood, Those (are the) companions (of) the Fire; they in it (will) abide indefinitely."

[D] - ALLIANCE with the sons of Israel [40...103]

A - Present (son of Israel) - Quranic moment

[2:40] O son of Israel, remember My Favor which I have bestowed upon you. } Favor

GENERAL

Honour your commitment to Me
 I will honour My commitment to you.
It is Me alone that you must dread.

—————> In This life

DETAIL

[2:41] Have faith in what I have sent down, confirmation what's with you,
 and don't be the first to deny it.

} Faith-trust
 In divine signs

And don't trade My signs for a derisory price,
 And it is from Me alone that you must guarantee yourselves.
 [2:42] Don't clothe unchanging-truth with false-delusion
 And do not hide knowingly-and-intentionally the unchanging-truth.

[2:43] Initiate the solemn prayer (with God alone) and provide the growth of means for the benefit of the people [9],
 And humble yourself with those who lower themselves.

} Virtuous behavior

[2:44] Will you command people to be virtuous by forgetting yourselves, and reciting the Holy Writings?
 thus, do you not then reason?

[2:45] Seek effective help through perseverance and the solemn prayer (with God alone).

And certainly, it is surely difficult, except for the humble,
 [2:46] those who are sure they will meet their Sustainer Master and return to Him

B - Past (Moses) - Conclusion on the history of the bellowing calf and that I have favoured you above all men. } Favor

GENERAL

[2:48] Protect yourself from the day when no one will take advantage of another, where no intercession will be accepted from him,

 and where no compensation will be received from him.
 They will not be those who will be rescued.

—————> hereafter : Physical death

DETAIL

[2:49] And when We saved you from Pharaoh's people, who inflicted horrible torments on you by slaughtering your sons and leaving your daughters alive.

} Saved from physical death

In this there was a great trial from your Sustainer Master.
 [2:50] And when We divided the sea for you,
 So that we have saved you and drowned Pharaoh's people, while you looked dumbfounded.

And when We made an appointment with Moses forty nights,
 Then after he left, you adopted the calf, being unjust with yourselves.
 Then We forgave you after that, so that you may be thankful.
And when We gave Moses the Holy Writing and the Criterion, so that you may be well guided.

} Saved from spiritual death

B' - Past - (Moise) - Introduction with the history of the bellowing calf [A / x / A ']

[2:54] And when said Musa to his people, "O my people! Indeed, you [you] have wronged your souls by your taking the calf.

So, turn in repentance to your Healer-who-frees-from-faults, and mortified your souls.
That (is) better for you with your Healer-who-frees-from-faults."

Then He turned towards you.
Indeed He! He (is) the-returning, The Inexhaustible Merciful.

(b)

[2:55] And when you said, "O Musa! Never (will) we have faith in you until we see God manifestly."
So seized you the thunderbolt while you (were) looking.
[2:56] Then We revived you from after your death, so that you may (be) grateful.

[2:57] And We shaded [over] you (with) [the] clouds and We sent down to you
[the] manna and [the] quails,
"Eat from (the) good things that We have provided you."

And not they wronged Us, but they were (to) themselves doing wrong.

----->
Common theme for (a) (b):
Faith in the one who is transcendent (sky and invisible) # calf -> earth and visible

Theme (x):
Reminder of the two extreme themes:
- "Eat"
- "Faith"

[2:58] And when We said,
"Enter this town then eat from wherever you wish[ed] abundantly, and enter the gate prostrating.
And say, "Repentance, We will forgive for you your sins.
And We will increase the good doers (in reward)."

[2:59] But those who were bent on evildoing substituted another saying for that which had been given them; so We sent down upon those who wronged a plague from the sky because they were defiantly disobeying.

[2:60] And when asked (for) water Musa for his people,
[so], We said, "Strike with your staff the stone."
Then gushed forth from it (of) twelve springs.
Indeed, knew all (the) people their drinking.

"Eat and drink from (the) provision (of) God, and (do) not act wickedly in the earth spreading corruption."

Common theme for (b') (a'):
Earth food = "fruits" of the earth and water

[2:61] And when you said, "O Musa! Never (will) we endure [on] food (of) one (kind), so pray for us (to) your Sustainer Master to bring forth for us out of what grows the earth, of its herbs, [and] its cucumbers, [and] its garlic, [and] its lentils, and its onions."

He said, "Would you exchange that which [it] (is) inferior for that which [it] (is) better? Go back in shame to Egypt, so indeed for you (is) what you have asked (for)."

(b)

And were struck on them the humiliation and the misery and they drew on themselves wrath of God That (was) because they used to deny (the) miracles (of) God and kill the Prophets without (any) [the] right.

That (was) because they disobeyed, and they were transgression.

[2:62] VERILY, those who have attained to faith [in this divine writ], as well as those who are Jews, and the Christians, and the Sabian's all who had faith in God and the After Day and did righteous deeds and no fear need they have, and neither shall they grieve.

(b')

[2:63] And when We took your covenant and We raised over you the mount, "Hold what We with strength, and remember what (is) in May you (would become) cautious."

[2:64] Then you turned away from after that.

So if not (for the) Grace (of) God upon you and His Mercy, surely you would have been of the losers.

[2:65] And indeed, you knew those who transgressed among you in the (matter of) Sabbath. So We said to them, "Be apes, disdained at a respectful distance."

[2:66] So We made it a deterrent correction for those (in) front (of) them and their descendants and an admonition⁸ for those who consciously are cautious.

Theme:
Inferior choice – material = earth / celestial

Theme:

Theme:
Non-exclusive universal salvation beyond monotheistic traditions.

-A'-

[2:67] And when said Musa to his people, "Indeed, God commands you that you slaughter a cow." They said, "Do you take us (in) ridicule."

He said, "I seek refuge in God that I be among the ignorant."

[2:68] They said, "Ask for us (to) your Sustainer Master to make clear to us what it (is)."

He said, "Indeed, says, "[Indeed] it (is) a cow not old and not young, middle aged between that," so do what you are commanded."

[2:69] They said, "Ask for us (to) your Sustainer Master to make clear to us what (is) its colour."

He said, "Indeed, He says, "[Indeed] it is a cow yellow, bright (in) its colour, pleasing (to) those who see (it)."

[2:70] They said, "Ask for us (to) your Sustainer Master to make clear to us what it (is) for to us all cows resemble one another.

And indeed we, if wills God, (will) we shall truly be guided aright!

[2:71] He said, "Indeed, says, "[Indeed] it (is) a cow not trained to plough the earth, and not water the field; sound, no blemish in it."

They said, "Now you have come with the truth."

So they slaughtered it, and not they were near (to) doing (it).

[2:72] And when you killed a soul, then you disputed concerning it, but God (is) the One brought forth what you were concealing.

[2:73] So We said, "Strike him with a part of it."⁹

Like this revives God the dead, and shows you His Signs, perhaps you may use your intellect.

[2:74] Then hardened your hearts from after that so they (became) like [the] stones or stronger (in) hardness.

And indeed, from the stones certainly (there are some) which gush forth from it [the] rivers, and indeed, from certainly (there are some) which split, so comes out from it [the] water, and indeed, from certainly (there are some) which fall from fear (of) God.

And not (is) God unaware of what you do.

⁸ From the root wāw 'ayn zā (و ع ظ): to warn, to exhort someone by predicting a reward or Torment (admonishment).

⁹ i.e. « Thus, for having revealed what they were hiding, Our Majesty had ordered: "You people, hit him! (The murdered / dead person) using part of his body (of the sacrificed and slaughtered cow)"

1. Generality¹⁰

[2:75] Did you expect that they would have faith in what you are preaching, when a group of them had heard the words of God then altered them knowingly after having thinking (on it)?

(b)

[2:76] And when they came across those who have faith, they said: "We have faith!"
 And when they are alone with each other they said: "Do you inform them of what God has disclosed to you?
 so that they might use it in argument against you, quoting the words of your Sustainer.
 Do you not reasoned?"

[2:77] Do they not know that God knows what they keep secret and what they make known?

(b')

[2:78] And among them (are) incultivated ones, (who) do not know the Holy Writing except wishful thinking and not they (do anything) except guess.

[2:79] So woe to those who write the Holy Writing with their (own) hands then, they say, "This (is) from God," to barter with it (for) a price little.
 So woe to them for what have written their hands
 And Woe to them for what they earn.

[2:80] And they say, "Never will touch us the Fire except (for) small days numbered."
 Say, "Have you taken from God a covenant?
 so never will break God His Covenant?
 Or (do) you say against God what not you know?"

Lie And the consequence in the hereafter

[2:81] Yes, whoever earned evil and surrounded him with his sins - [so] those (are the) companions (of) the Fire; they in it (will) abide forever.

[2:82] And those who had faith and did righteous deeds, those (are the) companions (of) the Garden; they in it (will) abide forever.

[2:83] And when We took (the) covenant (from the) Children (of) Israel:
 "Not you will serve except God, and with [the] parents (be) good and (with) relatives and [the] orphans and the needy, and speak to [the] people good, and initiate the solemn prayer (with God alone) and provide the growth of means for the benefit of the people.
 Then you turned away, except a few of you, and you (were) disobedient.

Good Deeds

(b)

[2:84]

And when We took your covenant:
 "Not will you shed your blood and not (will) evict yourselves from your homes," then you ratified while you (were) witnessing.
 Then you (are) those (who) kill yourselves and evict a party of you from their homes, you support one another against them in sin and [the] transgression.
 And if they come to you (as) captives, you ransom while it (was) forbidden to you their eviction.

Restrictions

¹⁰ Two themes that will be developed in part II: (1) - (B-B') they do not believe in the messengers who came after, and (2) - (A-A') they pervert the divine message.

So do you have faith in some part (of) the Holy Writing and deny others ?
Then what (should be the) recompense (for the one) who does that among you, except disgrace in the life (of) the world;
and (on the) Day of [the] Resurrection they will be sent back to (the) most severe correction?
And not (is) God unaware of what you do.
[2:86] Those (are) the ones who bought the life (of) the world for the Hereafter;
so not will be lightened for them the correction and not they will be helped.

Partial denial
And the consequence in the hereafter

[2:87] And indeed We gave Musa the Holy Writing and We followed up from after him with [the] Messengers.
And We gave Isa, (the) son (of) Maryam, [the] clear signs and We supported him (with) the Holy Spirit.

Is it (not) so (that) whenever coming to you a Messenger with what (does) not desire yourselves, you acted arrogantly?

So, a party you denied, and a party you kill(ed).

[2:88] And they said, "Our hearts (are) locked."

Nay, has cursed them God for their denial so little (is) what they have faith.

(x)

[2:89] And when came to them a Holy Writing from God authenticating what (was) with them, though they used to from before (that), pray for victory over those who denied - then when came to them what they recognized, they deny in it.

So (the) anathema (of) God (is) on the deniers.

[2:90] How Evil (is) that (for) which they have sold with themselves, that they deny in what has revealed God, grudging that sends down God of His Grace on whom He wills from His servants.

So they have drawn (on themselves) wrath upon wrath.

And for the deniers (is) a correction humiliating.

[2:91] And when it was said to them, "Have faith in what God has sent down", they said, "We have faith in what was sent down to us".

And they deny what came afterwards, which is the truth confirming what they already had.

Say, "Then why (did) you kill (the) Prophets (of) God from before, if you had faith?"

[2:92] And indeed came to you Musa with [the] clear signs, then you took the calf from after him and you (were) wrongdoers.

[2:93] And when We took your covenant and We raised over you the mount, "Hold what We gave you, with firmness and listen."

They said, "We heard, and we disobeyed."

And they were made to drink (soaked) in their hearts (love of) the calf because of their disbelief.

Say, "How Evil (is) that orders you (to do) it with your faith, if you have faith."

-A'-

[2:94] Say, "If - is for you the home (of) the Hereafter with God exclusively, from excluding the mankind, then wish (for) [the] death, if you are truthful."

[2:95] And never (will) they wish for it, ever, because (of what) sent ahead their hands.

And God (is) All-Knower of the wrongdoers.

[2:96] And surely you will find them (the) most greedy (of) [the] mankind for life, and (greedier) than those who associate[d] partners

One of them would like to be granted a life (of) a thousand year(s).

But not it (will) removes him from the correction that he should be granted life.

And God (is) All-Seer of what they do.

[2:97] Say, "Whoever is an enemy to Jibreel - then indeed he brought it down on your heart by (the) permission (of) God authenticating what (was) before it and a guidance and glad tiding(s) for those who have faith."

[2:98] Whoever is an enemy (to) God and His Angels, and His Messengers, and Jibreel, and Michael, then indeed God (is) an opponent to/for the deniers.

[2:99] And indeed We revealed to you Verses clear, and not deny them except the defiantly disobedient.

[2:100] And is (it not that) whenever they took a covenant, threw it away a party of them? Nay, most of them (do) not have faith.

[2:101] And when came to them a Messenger (of) from God authenticating what (was) with them, threw a party of those who were given the Holy Writing (the) Holy Writing (of) God behind their backs as if they (do) not know.

[2:102] And they followed what recite(d) the devils over (the) kingdom (of) Sulaiman.

And not denied Sulaiman but the devils denied, they teach the people [the] spell and what was sent down to the two angels in Babylon, Harut and Marut.

And not they both teach any one unless they [both] say, "Only we (are) a trial, so (do) not lose the faith."

But they learn from those what [they] causes separation with it between the man and his spouse.

And not they (could) at all [be those who] harm with it anyone except by permission (of) God.

And they learn what harms them and not profits them.

And indeed, they knew that whoever buys it, not for him in the Hereafter any share.

And surely how evil (is) what they sold with it themselves, if they were (to) know.

[2:103] And if [that] they (had) believed and made adequate provision for their preservation, if they were (to) know!.

Muhammad

Examples from PAST -
Solomon in particular

[E] - Doctrinal POLEMICS with those who are familiar or ignorant with the Holy Writing [104...123]

A : Favor of God who, through the Quran, corrects, among other things, the erroneous perceptions/writings of other monotheistic traditions (Ex-> the Jews and the "chosen people" which justifies a separate - privileged status)

-A-

[2:104] O you who had faith! "(Do) not say: " Have respect for us" but say: "Pay attention" and listen. For the deniers (is) a correction painful.

} Listen carefully...

-B-

[2:105] Those who denied among (the) familiar (of) the Holy Writing and those who associate partners don't like that (there should) be sent down to you any good from your Sustainer Master. God chooses for His Mercy whom He wills. God (is the) Possessor (of) [the] Bounty [the] Great.

Favor of God & Jealousy

[2:106] What We abrogate (of) a sign, or [We] cause it to be forgotten, We bring better than it or similar (to) it.¹¹ Do not you know that God over everything (is) All-Powerful?

-X-

[2:107] Don't you know that God for Him (is the) Kingdom (of) the heavens and the earth? And for you is not from besides God any protector and not any helper.

-B'-

[2:108] Or (do) you wish that you ask your Messenger as was asked Musa from before? And whoever exchanges [the] denial with [the] faith, so certainly he went astray (from) (the) evenness (of) the way.

Favor of God & Jealousy

[2:109] Wish[ed] Among from (the) familiar (of) the Holy Writing if they could turn you back from after your (having) faith (to) deny, (out of) envy from (of) themselves, (even) from after [what] became clear to them, the truth.

So forgive and overlook until brings God His Order. Indeed, God on everything (is) All-Powerful.

-A'-

[2:110] And initiate the solemn prayer (with God alone), and provide the growth of means for the benefit of the people. And whatever you send forth for yourselves of good (deeds), you will find it with God. Indeed, God of what you do (is) All-Seer.

} ... and act accordingly

B - False belief of Jews and Christians - exclusive salvation based only on one denomination # good creed and behaviour to follow

[2:111] And they said, "Never will enter the Paradise except who is (a) Jew[s] or (a) Christian[s]."
That (is) their wishful thinking.

Say, "Bring your proof if you are [those who are] truthful."

[2:112] But, whoever surrender his face to God and he (is) a good-doer, so for him (is) his reward with his Sustainer Master.

And no fear (will be) on them and they (will) not grieve.

C - False belief of Jewish Christians and the uneducated - Exclusive knowledge based only on a religious denomination

[2:113] The Jews said: "Not the Christians (are) on anything."

And the Christians said: "Not the Jews (are) on anything."

Although they recite the Holy Writing!

Like that said those who (do) not know, similar their saying.

[So] God will judge between them (on the) Day (of) Resurrection in what they were [in it] differing.

X – Controversial issues related to prayer (Role/purpose of places of worship and the absolute importance of physical direction for its validity)

[2:114] And who (is) more unjust than (one) who prevents (the) cult places (of) God to be celebrated in them His name, and strives for their ruin? } Place

Those! Not it is for them that they enter them except (like) those in fear.

For them in the world (is) disgrace, and for them in the Hereafter (is) a correction great. } Time

[2:115] And for God (is) the sunrise and sunset.

So, wherever you turn [so] there (is the) face (of) God.¹² } Place

Indeed, God (is) All-Encompassing, All-Knowing.

C' - False knowledge - (1) Christian mistaken belief about Jesus, and (2) false hope for those ignorant of the Holy Writing

[2:116] And they said, "God has taken a son."

Glory be to Him! Nay, for Him (is) what (is) in the heavens and the earth.

All to Him (are) humbly obedient.

[2:117] (The) Originator (of) the heavens and the earth!

And when He decrees a matter, [so] only He says to it "Be," and it manifests.

[2:118] Those who (do) not know said: "Why God do not speak to us or comes to us a sign?"

Like that said those from before them similar their saying.

Became alike their hearts.

[2:119] Indeed, We have made clear the signs for people (who) firmly believe.

Indeed We! [We] have sent you with the truth, (as) a bearer of good news and (as) a warner. And you will not be asked about (the) companions (of) the blazing Fire.

¹² In cases we could not determine the precise direction of the qiblah (night, journey...).

B' - False knowledge of Jews and Christians - exclusive knowledge

[2:120] The Jews and [not] the Christians will never be pleased with you until you follow their creed.
Say, "Indeed, (the) Guidance (of) God, it (is) the Guidance."
And if you follow their desires after what has come to you of the knowledge, not for you from God any protector and not any helper.

[2:121] Those We have given them the Holy Writing recite it (as it has the) right (of) its recitation¹³.
Those (people) have faith in it.
And whoever deny in it, then those, they (are) the losers.

A' - God's Favour over the sons of Israel - their election is not coming from being a superior people, but receiving the responsibility of the divine guidance by being an examples towards other people

[2:122] O Children (of) Israel! Remember My Favor which I bestowed upon you and that I [I] preferred you over the men.

[2:123] And preserve yourself of a day will not avail anything a soul (for) (another) soul and they will not be accepted from it any compensation, and they will not benefit it any intercession, and they will not be helped.

B – Spiritual direction in relation to Abraham

-A-

[2:130] And who will turn away from (the) creed (of) Ibrahim except who fooled himself?
And indeed, We chose him among the Men, and indeed he, in, the Hereafter surely (will be) among the justified.

[2:131]

When said to him his Sustainer Master "Surrender (yourself) entirely," he said: "I (have) entirely surrendered to (the) Sustainer Master (of) Men."

[2:132]

And Ibrahim enjoined (upon) his sons and Yaqub,
"O my sons! Indeed, God has chosen for you the creed, so not (should) you die except while you (are) entirely surrendered."

Doctrines of Abraham

-B-

Prophets in Abraham's

[2:133] Or were you witnesses when came to Yaqub [the] death, when he said to his sons,
"What will you serve from after me?"
They said: "We will serve your God and (the) God (of) your forefathers, Ibrahim and Ismail and Ishaq - God One.
And we to Him (are) entirely surrendered."

Jacob's community
achieved

for it what it earned and for you that you have earned.
And not you will be asked about what they used to do.

-A'-

[2:135] And they said, "Be Jews or Christians, (then) you will be guided."

Say: "Nay, (the) creed (of) Ibrahim, (the) the deviant pagan; and what was revealed to Ibrahim and Ismail and Ishaq and Yaqub and the descendants, and what was given (to) Musa and Isa and what was given (to) the Prophets from their Sustainer Master.

Not we make distinction between any of them.

And we to Him (are) entirely surrendered."

[2:137] So if they have faith in (the) like (of) what you had faith in [it], then indeed, they are guided.

But if they turn away, then only they (are) in dissension.

So will suffice you against th God,

He (is) the All-Hearing, the All-Knowing.

And for us (are) our deeds and for you (are) your deeds and we to Him (are) sincere devoted. "

God is not unaware of what you do.

Jacob's community
achieved

[2:141] This (was) a community (which) has passed away,¹⁵ for it what it earned and for you what you have earned.

And not you will be asked about what they used to do.

¹⁵ The witness has passed - A new balanced community may emerge ([2:143]), whose reference is Patriarch Ibrahim. This change is crystallizing especially with the change of Qibla [X-A'].

B' – Physical direction in relation to Abraham

-A-

[2:142] The foolish ones among the people will say:
 What (has) turned them from their direction which they were used to [on it]."
 Say, "For God (is) the sunrise and sunset.
 He guides whom He wills to a path straight and ascending."

 [2:143] And thus We made you a balanced and fair community so that you will be witnesses over the mankind, and will be the Messenger on you a witness.
 and may the messenger be witness unto you.

 And We did not make the direction which you were used [on it] except that We make evident (he) who follows the Messenger from (he) who turns back on his heels.
 And indeed, it was certainly difficult except for those who guided (by) God.
 And not will God let go waste your faith.
 Indeed, God (is) to [the] mankind Full of Kindness, dispenser of Grace.

Controversy surrounding the change in direction

-B-

The decision to change of direction

[2:144] Indeed, We see (the) turning (of) your face in the sky.
 So, We will surely turn you (to the) direction that suits and pleased you.
 So, turn¹⁶ your face towards the direction (of) the sacred place of worship.
 and wherever that you are [so] turn your faces (in) its direction.

-A'-

And indeed, those who were given the Holy Writing surely know that it (is) the truth from their Sustainer Master.
 And God is not unaware of what they do.
 [2:145] And even if you come (to) those who were given the Holy Writing with all (the) signs, they would not follow your direction, and you will not be a follower (of) their direction
 And some of them (are) not followers (of the) direction (of each) other.
 And if you followed their desires from after [what] came to you of the knowledge, indeed, you (would) then (be) surely among the wrongdoers.

 [2:146] (To) those whom We gave [them] the Holy Writing, they recognize it like they recognize their sons.
 And indeed, a group of them, surely, they conceal the Truth while they know.
 [2:147] The Truth (is) from your Sustainer Master, so (do) not be among the doubters.

 [2:148] And for everyone (is) a direction - he turns towards it, so race (to) the good.
 Wherever that you will be will bring you (by) God together.
 Indeed, God (is) on everything All-Powerful.

Controversy surrounding
 the change in direction

-B'-

The decision to
 change of direction

[2:149] And from wherever you start forth, [so] turn your face (in the) direction (of) the sacred place of worship.
 And indeed, it (is) surely the truth from your Sustainer Master.
 And God is not unaware of what you do.

 [2:150] And from wherever you start forth [so] turn your face (in the) direction (of) the sacred place of worship.
 And wherever that you (all) are [so] turn your faces (in) its direction.

 So that people will not have against you any argument except those who wronged among them.
 So (do) not fear them, but fear Me.
 And that I complete My Favor upon you [and] so that you may (be) guided.

¹⁶ In Arabic: “shatra”. The basic idea of the root is to divide a thing into two equal parts, from there to be divided on two sides (said of the sight when one eye looks from one side and the other from the other) or to milk a female with only two teats, leaving the other two intact (finally to milk only half of the milk ...).
 So, by using the word “shatra” (which only appears 5 times and all in passage [X] -B'), God wants to reinforce the idea that the Cult place Al-Haram is THE direction of our spiritual life, even if it differs from our ordinary place of residence. In short, we must share equally our life between our worldly place of life and the place where Ibrahim stood to honour the unique God (at the time of prayer or for the pilgrimage).

A' – Abraham and his heir Muhammad, descendant of Ishmael

-A-

[2:151] As We sent among you a Messenger from you (who) recites to you Our verses and improve (enrich) you and teaches you the Holy Writing and the wisdom and teaches you what you were not knowing.¹⁷

Spiritual life - static: Salat is sublimating because it improves us through the correct knowledge that it brings.

-B-

[2:152] So remember Me,
I will remember you and be grateful to Me and (do) not (be) ungrateful to Me.

Worldly life - Normal time
Stay connected and Truthful to God

-X-

[2:153] O you who have faith! Seek help through perseverance (resilience) and the Prayer.

Central theme of rescue which is deployed along two axes:
- Perseverance / endurance in B&B
- Connection-of-Grace in A&A'

-B'-

Indeed, God (is) with the persevering ones.
[2:154] And (do) not say for (the ones) who are slain in (the) way (of) God "(They are) dead Nay, (they are) alive [and] but you (do) not perceive.
[2:155] And surely, We will test you with something of [the] fear and [the] hunger and loss of [the] wealth and [the] lives and [the] fruits.

But give good news (to) the persevering ones.
[2:156] Those who, when strikes them a misfortune, they say:
"Indeed, we belong to God and indeed towards Him we will return."
[2:157] Those on them (are) blessings from their Sustainer Master and Mercy.
Those [they] (are) the guided ones.

Worldly Life – Trials time
Staying Connected and

-A'-

[2:158] Indeed, Safa and Marwa (are) from (the) symbols/rites (of) God. So, whoever performs the pilgrimage at the House or performs the pious visit, thus, no blame on him that he walks between [both of] them.

Spiritual life - movement (Pilgrim and walking between 2 rocks to ask God for Mercy)

And whoever voluntarily does good, then indeed, God (is) All-grateful, All-Knowing.

¹⁷ The verse [2:151] which begins this passage follows on from the end of passage [X] -A where Abraham's wish is granted in the person of the messenger Muhammad. The reference to Abraham frames this passage with the allusion to the pilgrimage made to the House built by him according to God's instructions.

[E'] - Doctrinal POLEMICS with those familiar with the Holy Writing and associators

[2:159...177]

A - "Faith" in Scripture: two opposing attitudes after the clear exposition of the Qur'an guidance

[2:159] Indeed, those who conceal what We revealed of the clear proofs, and the Guidance, from after [what] We made clear to the people in the Holy Writing – These are those whom God condemns and who are condemned by the reprobates. } Condemnable attitude

[2:160] Except those who repent[ed] and reform[ed] and openly declared the truth. Then those, I will accept repentance from them, and I (am) the Acceptor of Repentance, The Inexhaustible Merciful. } Truthful attitude: repentant

B – Polytheists: No faith in one God despite evidence (Quran AND the call of creation - double ingratitude)

The call of the Quran rejected

[2:161] Indeed, those who denied[d] and die[d] while they (were) deniers, those, on them (is the) condemnation (of) God, and the Angels, and the mankind, all together. [2:162] They will abide indefinitely in it. they will not be lightened for them the correction and they will not be reprieved.

[2:163] Your god (is) God one (only). (there is) no god except Him, The Full of Mercy, The Inexhaustible Merciful. } Faith in God internally (faithful) which manifests itself externally (being in the image of this love-matrix)

The call of the signs of divine creation rejected

[2:164] Indeed, in (the) creation (of) the heavens and the earth, and alternation of the night and the day, and the ships which sail in the sea with what benefits [the] people, and what (has) sent down God from the sky [of] water, giving life thereby (to) the earth after its death, and dispersing therein [of] every moving creature, and directing (of) the winds and the clouds [the] controlled and subjected between the sky and the earth, surely (are) Signs-proofs for a people who use their intellect.

C - Beneficent God - Only recourse

[2:165] Among people they are some who takes from besides God equals. They love them as (they should) love God. And those who have faith (are) stronger (in) love for God. } # God incapable (self-sufficient)

And if would see those who wronged, when they will see the correction They will see that the power (belongs) to God all and [that] God (is) severe (in) [the] correction. } # God incapable (resurrection of the dead)

X - Theme of the Hereafter and fair retribution to stubborn traitors

The end of the mirage because they will have no help apart from God -

[2:166] When will disown those who were followed [from] those who followed, and they will see the correction [and] will be cut off for them the relations. [2:167] Those who followed said: "(Only) if [that] for us a return, then we will disown [from] them as they disown us." Thus, God will show them their deeds (as) regrets for them. And they will not come out from the Fire.

C' - Beneficent God - Good and Sure advisor

[2:168] O people! Eat of what (is) in the earth lawful (and) good advisor. And (do) not follow (the) footsteps (of) the Shaytan. Indeed, he (is) to you an enemy clear. [2:169] Only he orders you to (do) the evil and the shameful and that you say about God what you don't know. } Bad conduct with the wrong advisor

[2:170] And when it is said to them, "Follow what God has revealed," they said, "Nay we follow what we found [on it] our forefathers (following)". Even though [were] their forefathers (did) not understand anything, and not were they guided? } Ancestors are not sure advisors

B' - Polytheists: No faith in one God despite evidence (Quran AND the call of creation - double ingratitude)

Obtuse on call

[2:171] And (the) example (of) those who denied (is) like (the) example to the beast that hears the cry of the shepherd's reminder nothing but cries and clamours.
Deaf dumb, (and) blind, [so] they (do) not understand. [Cf. 2:171]

A' - "Faith" in Scripture: two opposing attitudes after the clear exposition of the Qur'an guidance

[2:172] O you who have faith! Eat from (the) good (of) what We have provided you and be grateful to God if you alone serve Him.

[2:173] Only He has forbidden to you the dead animals, and [the] blood, and flesh, (of) swine, and what has been dedicated [with it] to other than God. So whoever (is) forced by necessity without (being) disobedient and not transgressor, then no sin on him.

Indeed, God (is) Oft-Forgiving, dispenser of Grace.

Gratitude and easing (forgiveness)

[2:174] Indeed, those who conceal what (has) revealed God (has) of the Holy Writing, and they purchase there with a paltry gain little.

Those, not they eat in their bellies except the Fire. And not will speak to them God (on the) Day (of) [the] Resurrection and not will He purify them, and for them (is) a correction painful.

Double ingratitude, no forgiveness

[2:175] Those (are) they who purchase[d] [the] astraying for [the] Guidance, and [the] correction for [the] forgiveness.

So they will have to endure hell!

[2:176] That (is) because God revealed the Book with [the] Truth.

And indeed, those who differed in the Holy Writing (are) surely in schism far.

Conclusion ¹⁸

[2:177] Virtue¹⁹ is not about that you turn your faces towards the sunrise and sunset. [10]

But the virtuous are the ones who have faith in God and The Day After, and the Angels, and the Holy Writing, and the Prophets,

And who give of their goods for the purpose of obtaining the approval and appreciation of God the Exalted: the near relatives, and the orphans, and the needy, and (of) the wayfarer, and the beggars, and in freeing the necks (slaves).

And those who initiate and maintain the solemn prayer (with God alone), and provide the growth of means for the benefit of the people.

Those who fulfil their covenant when they make it. and those who are perseverant in [the] suffering and [the] hardship, and (the) time (of) [the] stress.

Those (are) the truthful ones

And those are the ones who are preoccupied to preserve themselves (salvation).

¹⁸ Conclusion of the controversial passage[E] - [E'] with a focus on the focal point. (Qibla)

¹⁹ Pure virtue beyond dogmatic differences or the particularity of rites (which are only means of achieving virtue and in fine salvation): (1) Pure faith, and (2) Meritorious acts, detailed here.

[D'] – New ALLIANCE with the Quranic messenger [2:178...242]

A - Privacy: individual - physical death

1. Non-natural death: Prescription and Outside the Law

-A-

[2:178] O you who had faith! Prescribed for you (is) the equitable retaliation in the case of murdered: the freeman for the freeman, the slave for the slave, the female for the female²⁰.

} Fair Prescription

-B-

Concession + But whoever is pardoned [for it] from his brother anything, then follows up with suitable [and] payment to him with kindness. That is a concession from your Master and mercy.

-B'-

Transgression - Then whoever transgresses after that, then for him is a painful correction.

-A'-

[2:179] For you in the equitable retaliation is life, O men (of) understanding! So that you may protect yourself²¹.

} Fair Prescription & general

2. Natural death: Prescription and Outside the Law

[2:180] Prescribed for you when approaches any of you [the] death, if he leaves good (making) the will for the parents and the near relatives with due fairness a duty.

} Fair Prescription

A duty for those who are preoccupying to preserve themselves.

-A-

Transgression - [2:181] Then whoever changes it after what he (has) heard [it], so only its fault (would be) on those who alter it.

-B-

Indeed, God (is) All-Hearing, All-Knowing. → God witness

-A'-

Concession + But whoever fears from (the) testator (any) error or iniquity, then reconciles between them, then (there is) no fault on him.

-B'-

Indeed, God (is) Oft-Forgiving, All-Merciful. → God mercy

²⁰ We are in the strict framework of tribal wars - Here is the context of revelation:

(O ye who believe! Retaliation is prescribed for you in the matter of the murdered...) [2:178]. Said al-Sha'bi: "Fighting took place between two Arab tribes. One tribe had more power than the other and, therefore, they said: 'For every slave of ours that you kill, we will kill a free man of yours, and for every woman of ours a man of yours'. And then this verse was revealed".

²¹ General case.

B - Exteriority: Community practice - temporary deprivation of food, water and sex

1. Generality on fasting as a common practice to those familiar with Holy Scripture (continuity)

Prescription of the fasting continuously	{	[2:183] O you who had faith! Is prescribed for you [the] repairer fasting [11] as was prescribed to those from before you , so that you may preserve yourself.
		[2:184] Days numbered and determined [12].
Fasting discontinuous	{	But whoever is among you sick or in distancing, then a prescribed number of other days.
No fasting	{	And on those who can afford it although unwillingly ²² , a redemption (of) feeding a poor.	} Good -> feeding (a) poor(s)
		And whoever volunteers good more then it (is) better for him.
	{	And doing a repairer fasting is better for you, if you know!	} Fasting incentive

2. Specificity on the fasting practiced by the “balanced” community of Muhammed (specific) - Those who want and can practice it (the case of non-practitioners has been treated above “can” and “redemption”)

2.1 The question about time (duration and moment) and the spiritual aspect linked to fasting

Prescription of the fasting continuously	{	[2:185] Lunar Month (of) Ramadhan [13] is that was revealed therein the Quran , Guidance for mankind and clear proofs of [the] Guidance and the Criterion
		So whoever among you has been present this lunar month will fast during it.
Fasting discontinuous	{	and whoever is sick or on a journey then prescribed number from other days. Intends God for you [the] ease and not intends for you [the] hardship, so that you complete the prescribed number .
No fasting	{	and that you magnify God for [what] He guided you for the purpose of you may (be) grateful .	} Good -> Gratitude to God
		[2:186] And when ask you My servants about Me, then indeed I am near. I welcome (to the) invocation (of) the supplicant when he calls Me. So let them welcome Me and let them true believe in Me, for the purpose of they may (be) led aright .

2.2 The question of Intercourse and daily moment of the fasting

Start at nautical dawn -> dusk	{	[2:187] Permitted for you the night of the repairer fasting the physical approach to your wives. They (are) garments for you and you (are) garments for them. Knows God that you used to deceive yourselves, so He turned towards you and He forgave [on] you. So now have rejoicing with them, And seek what has prescribed God for you. ²³	} Permission of intercourse some part of the night
		And eat and drink until becomes distinct to you the thread [the] white from the thread [the] black of [the] dawn. ²⁴ Then practice without interruption the fast till entering the night.
	{	And (do) not have relations with them while you (are) fixed in the cult places . These (are the) limits (set by) God, so (do) not approach them. Thus makes clear God His verses for [the] people so that they do their best to preserve themselves.	} Non-permission of intercourse in case of spiritual retreat

²² Lane Lexicon: I made the thing to be [as though it were] his طَوَّقَ [or neck-ring]: and thereby is expressed the imposing [upon one] a thing that is difficult, troublesome, or inconvenient: (Msb:) [i. e.] طَوَّقْتُكَ الشَّيْءَ means (assumed tropical:) I imposed, or have imposed, upon thee the thing as one that is difficult, troublesome, or inconvenient. He was, or became, able to do, or accomplish, or to bear, the thing.

²³ Reminder to comply with the divine prescriptions of which two are detailed just after; and not to desire here children.

²⁴ The nautical dawn (12° angle).

-a- Excess

[2:188] And (do) not consume your properties among yourselves wrongfully and present [with] it to the authorities so that you may eat a portion from (the) wealth (of) the people sinfully while you know.

[2:189] They ask you about the new moons.
Say, "They (are) indicators of periods for the people, and (for) the Hajj."

Piety does not consist of that you come (to) the houses/tents from their backs, [and] but [the] truly pious (is one) who protects himself.

And come (to) the houses/tents from their doors.

And beware of God so that you may (be) successful.

-b- Fight

[2:190] Fight in God's path against those who fight you, but do not be aggressors,
for God does not love aggressors. [14]

[2:191] [If they start a fight] kill them wherever you find them, and expel them from wherever they expelled you.
For oppression is worse than murder.

Do not fight them at the Holy Sanctuary²⁵ unless they fight you in it.
If they fight you, kill them.
That is the reward of the deniers.

[2:192] If they stop, God is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful.

[2:193] Fight them until there is no more persecution and until the code of conduct is devoted only to God.
If they stop, there should be no aggression except toward the unjust.

[2:194] Fight back during the sacred lunar month:
violation of sanctity [calls for] just retribution.

Whoever attacks you, attack them as you were attacked.
Beware of God and know that God is with those who are protecting themselves.

-c- Spend

[2:195] Spend in charity in the path of God, and do not contribute to your own destruction,
but do good.
God loves the good doers.

²⁵ Sacred or inviolable / respectful - the word haram designates a forbidden or sacred thing to be respected in the sense that it aims to safeguard peace, to allow the maintenance of life. Words derived from the root Hrm revolve around the concept of life.
- This is the case with the 4 sacred or inviolable lunar months which are lunar months where combat / aggression / raiding was prohibited and respected by all the tribes of Arabia.
- The same goes for "the sacred place of cult" which represents the sanctuary which surrounds the Kaaba and where any manifestation of violence was banned. (equivalent to the Greek word "temenos").

-x- PEACE and warning to transgressors [2:196...214].

1. Hajj

--- 1.1 Relationship to Men: Charity through Offering

[2:196] Fulfil²⁶ Hajj and Umra fully for God.

However, if on arrival you were prevented²⁷, then what made it easy for you as mammals destined for sacrifice.

And you should not shave your heads until the mammal destined for sacrifice has reached its place of sacrifice.

However, if any one of you has been ill or has had a head injury that required or does not permit shaving, then compensation of his choice is due to him: a fast or alms or a sacrifice. (1)

Thereafter, if you have a security clearance, then whoever took advantage²⁸ of the 'Umra and is going to perform the Hajj, then what has made it easy for you as a mammal destined for sacrifice. However, whoever fails to comply with this injunction, then a fast of three days must be observed during the Hajj and then seven once back, for a final total of ten days.

This is for those whose family is not resident in the sanctified Place of Worship. (2)
Fear God piously and know that God is exigent about compensation.

--- 1.2 Relationship to Men: Doing of Good

[2:197] the Hajj takes place in well-known months.²⁹

So, anyone who commits to Hajj in these months,
No indecenty, debauchery and quarrels during the Hajj.³⁰
What you do of good, God knows.

Make sure you have the necessary provisions for the trip, but the best travel provision is vigilant piety.
Fear Me piously, O skilful of intelligence.

--- 2.1 Relationship to God: Bedouin pilgrimage (cf. verse 9:3 "l-haji l-akbari")

[2:198] No fault will be imputed to you in seeking any grace from your Master.³¹

Then (fa) when you shed from `Arafat,
Remember God at the sacred landmark.
And remember Him for guiding you, whereas before you were of those who went astray.

[2:199] Then (thumma) spread out in the way people spread out, and ask God for forgiveness.
Surely, God is Fault Recoverer, Benevolent.

--- 2.2 Relationship to God: content and duration of the recall

-A-
[2:200] And when you have completed your rites and ceremonies, Remember God as you remember your ancestors, or a larger reminder

Cases of obstruction:

- (1) to complete the Hajj and the 'Umra;
- (2) to perform all the protocols in fear and reverence of God the Exalted.

Transition between the 2 parts:

- 1) Hajj and desired paucity
- 2) Hajj and desired abundance

Offering

Doing of Good

²⁶ The Arabic word "atimmū" expresses the accomplishment, the completeness of something without interruption in time and/or practice.

²⁷ Cf. [48:25] "They are the ones who have denied and diverted you from the sanctified place of worship and prevented the offering from reaching its destination...", a verse alluding to the pilgrimage of the year 6 H.

²⁸ (Tamattu , تَمَتُّعٌ, enjoyment; possession)

²⁹ It is the last three months of the lunar year. Ibn Jarir said: "It is common practice to call two months and part of the third month "months". This is like the Arabic saying: "I have visited such and such a person this year or this day". In fact, He only visited him for part of the year or part of the day.

³⁰ Establish a climate of PEACE!

³¹ In reference to the pilgrimage outside Mecca (Haram zone), mainly made up of nomads (pastoral pilgrimage in autumn and during the month of Hajj). Not to be confused with the "pilgrimage to the temple". According to tradition (a likely hypothesis), Muhammad would have reunited these two pilgrimages at the very end of his mission in the year 10H, after becoming master of the cities and nomads of Hijaz.

-B-

Invocation { Among the people some say: "Our Master, give us here below", and for them there will be no share in the Hereafter.

Invocation { [2:201] And among those who say, "Our Master, give us good in this world and good in the Hereafter, and protect us from the correction of the Fire.
[2:202] They are the people; the allotment of reward for that which they had earned is secure for them³².
God is swift in calling to account.

-A'-

[2:203] Remember God for days that are numbered.
And he who hastens in two days commits no fault, and he who lingers longer does not commit faults as long as he shows vigilant piety.
Fear God piously, and know that it is to Him that you will be gathered.
Remember God during numbered days.

-B'-

Vigilant { [2:204] Among the people in this life there is the one whose word impresses you, and who takes God as a witness of what is in his heart, even though he is the most stubborn of opponents.
[2:205] And when he turned away, he applied himself with effort to sowing corruption on earth and destroying cultivated land and offspring.
God does not love corruption.
[2:206] And when it was said to him, "Fear God piously, his pride led him to make faults.
So hell will be appropriate for him, and surely it is a bad place to rest!

Vigilant { [2:207] Among people there is the one who sells his person in search of God's satisfaction.³³
God is very gentle and kind to the devoted servants.

[2:212] It has been beautified for those who have denied the life of this

³² Since their actions will not be in vain.

³³ In this root, there is also the idea of "overpowering someone by making oneself more pleasing to another, supplanting someone in someone else's good graces. "and is not without recalling verses [2:148] and [5:48] when it says: "[...] Seek to be ahead of yourself and first in works of good [...]".

or love something that is evil for you.
God knows, but you do not

[2:217] They ask you about fighting during the sacred lunar month.
Say, "Fighting in it is a grave transgression. But turning people away from the path of God, denying Him, preventing access to the Sacred Sanctuary, and expelling its residents is a bigger offense to God because sedition is a bigger offense than murder. They will not stop fighting you as long as there is the possibility of turning you away from your faith.
But if any of you denies the faith and dies in a state of unbelief, their deeds will come to nothing in this world and the Hereafter.
They will be in Hell, where they will remain forever.
[2:218] Indeed, those who had faith and those who emigrated and strove in (the) way (of) God – those, they hope (for) Mercy (of) God.
And God (is) Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful.

-a-'Excess

[2:219] They ask you about the wine and the game of chance for stakes.
Say, "In both of them (is) a great prejudice, and (some) benefits for [the] people.
But prejudice of both of them (is) greater than (the) benefit of (the) two."

And they ask you what they (should) spend in charity.
Say, "The excess."
Thus, God makes clear to you [the] Verses so that you may ponder [2:22] Concerning this world and the Hereafter.

They ask you about father-orphans³⁴.

³⁴ "Raids, vendettas and other violence mowed down men and the market value of women and children made them prey and victims, this Bedouin way of life caused great instability in Arabia at the time. As a result, "father-orphans" were legion and clan or extended family solidarity was at full play, but in this world of survival, the guardian also preserved his personal interests before those of the orphan and did Say: "To act for them with probity and to improve their initial condition is better. And if you share their lives, [remember that] they are your brothers".

for God distinguishes between him who spoils things and him who improves³⁵.
And if God had willed, surely, He could have put you in difficulties.³⁶
God is indeed All-Almighty-and-Protector, All-Wise.

not hesitate to squander the orphan's property when he owned it and was a "juvenile", i.e., as a male heir. "(A wise extract from Dr. Al Ajami in the analysis of verse 2:220).

1. Marital (A-A') and carnal (B-B') union under the sign of the purity (A-B) and sacredness (B'-A') of the bond.

-A-

[2:221] Don't marry a polytheistic woman until they truly believe.

And certainly, a bondwoman who is truly believing is better than a polytheist woman, even if she pleases you.

And don't give your wives in marriage to polytheists until they truly believe.

And surely, a bondman who is truly believing is better than a polytheist, even if he pleases you.

These call to the Fire, and God calls to the Heavenly Garden and to forgiveness with His permission.

He clarifies His signs to people, so that they may remember and take heed.

Prerequisites to Marital union : Faith first

-B-

[2:222] They ask you about menstruation.

Say, "It's a stain"

So, keep away from women during the menstrual period, and do not approach them until they are purified.

Then, when they are cleaned, then come to them as God has ordered to you".

God certainly loves those who return repentant to Him,

And he loves those who purify themselves.

Marital carnal union authorized except in two circumstances:

1. during the Menstrual Period and before being cleansed
2. the Anal Penetration

-B'-

[2:223] Your women are a field for cultivation³⁷ to you.

So go to your field for cultivation as you want.

And send forth good deeds for yourselves.³⁸

Fear piously God

and know that you will meet Him.

Bring the good news to the truly believers.

Free carnal union (in sexual positions) but the noble purpose of the carnal relationship is above all the procreation of believing children.

-A'-

[2:224] Do not make God an excuse in your oaths to dispense you from being good, to fear piously, or to reconcile people.³⁹

God is Hearing, Knowing.

[2:225] God does not blame you for the errors committed due to the verbiage of your oaths, but He grieves you for what your hearts have acquired.

God is Fault Recoverer, Indulgent.

Before Marital Disunity: Helping first to reconcile couples

³⁸ Send your good deeds in advance for the day of resurrection. Producing children and training them to be righteous servants of God and good members of society is one of those good deeds.

³⁹ Historical context linked to the family's help in dealing with couples in difficulty: « Said al-Kalbi: "This was revealed about 'Abd God ibn Rawahah to warn him against boycotting the husband of his sister, Bashir ibn al-Nu'man. 'Abd God ibn Rawahah had sworn that he will never visit him, speak to him or reconcile between him and his sister. He said: 'I swore by God that I will not do any of these and it is forbidden for me not to honour my oath'. God then revealed this verse".

However, verses 224-225 have nevertheless a general scope. For example, there are several traditions that attribute this speech to the Prophet Muhammad: "If anyone takes a solemn oath [that he will do or refrain from doing this or that] and then realizes that another way would be more just, then let him do what is more just, break his oath, and then atone.

2. Marital disunity: a rebalancing in Favor of women a – Breaking the marital bond (repudiate): limitations of possible abuse by men. [15]

-A-

[2:226] For those who pledge by oath to abstain from their wives are given four months.
and if they have reversed their decision then surely God is Oft Forgiving and Merciful.

[2:227] And if they decide to repudiate, then God is Hearing, Knowing

-B-

[2:228] Repudiated women must wait for three full cycles of menstruation.
It is illicit for them to hide what God may have created in their wombs if they sincerely believe in God and the Last Day,
Therefore, their husbands have a superior right to take them back if they want reconciliation.

For them a fair treatment against them, in a proper way.
And men have a higher degree (of responsibility) over them.
God is All-Almighty-and-Protective, infinitely Wise.

a waiting period

Pre-divorce: cooling-off period

-A'-

[2:229] A repudiate is [potentially revocable] twice (during the waiting period), whereupon the women must either be properly darn or let them go free to leave with kindness.

And it is not lawful for you to take anything back, without limitation, from what you gave them, unless they both fear that they cannot remain within God's limits.

And if you fear that they cannot remain within the limits of God, then there is no fault on their part for what she has given up in this regard.

These are God's limits, so don't transgress them!

And whoever transgresses God's limits, then they are the wrongdoers.

[2:230] And if he has repudiated her, then she is no longer lawful for him after that until she marries a spouse other than him.

And if he has repudiated her, then no blame shall be laid on them if they get back together, on the condition that they both believe that together they will be able to respect God's limits.

These are the limits of God that He clarifies for people who know.

-B'-

[2:231] And when you repudiate women, and they have reached their waiting period then stay together in a proper manner or separate from them in a proper manner.
But do not hold them back for the purpose of being harmful to them so that you are transgressing; whoever does so is surely harming himself.

Do not take God's verses as a mockery.
And remember God's blessings to you, and what he has brought down to you from Scripture and the wisdom he has taught you through it.

Fear God in prayer, and know that God is of all things perfectly knowing.

[2:232] And when you repudiate women and they have reached their waiting period, then do not hinder them from marrying their suitors when they have agreed in a proper manner.

This is an admonition to all of you who sincerely believe in God and the Last Day.
It is more profitable and purer for you.
God then knows that you don't know.

x – Breaking the Marital Bond (Baby): The Duties of Ex-Husbands after Repudiate

[2:233] Repudiated mothers must breastfeed their children for two full years, for anyone who has wished to perform complete breastfeeding. And the father is responsible for their subsistence and their clothing in a suitable manner.

A soul is only charged with what it can bear.
No mother shall be harmed because of her child and no father shall be harmed because of his child.
And the same duty is incumbent upon the heir [of the father].

And if they both, by mutual consent and consultation, agree on weaning, then no blame is laid at their door.
And if you want to ask another woman to breastfeed your children, then there is no blame to be laid on you, when you have paid what you have given in exchange in a fair manner.

Fear piously God
and know that God about what you are doing is fully Clairvoyant.

a' – Marital breakdown (repudiate or death): Safety for women. [16]

-A-

[2:234] Those who are dying among you and leave wives, for them four lunar months and ten days. And when they have reached their appointed time, then no blame on you that they dispose of themselves properly. God is, of what you do, perfectly knowing.

[2:235] No blame on you if you give an indication of an offer of marriage to one of these women, or if you conceive such an intention without making it obvious. God knows that you will think of them, but do not meet them in secret unless you have suitable words to say to them. And don't decide to enter marriage until the prescribed period has elapsed. Know that God knows what you are concealing, so beware of Him, and know that God is All-Forgiving, All-Indulgent.

Death

-B-

[2:236] There is no blame on you if you have repudiated your wives before establishing the intimate matrimonial union, or before specifying a dowry. But give them proper compensation, the rich according to his means and the poor according to his means. It is a duty for the benefactors.

Repudiation

[2:237] And if you have repudiated them before you have established the intimate matrimonial union when you have already specified a compulsory (dowry), then pay them half of what you specified unless the wife hands it over to you graciously, she or he on whom the conclusion of the marriage depended. And of this you renounce is closer to vigilant piety. And do not forget the goodness between you. God is, surely, of what you do, perfectly knowing.

-X-

[2:238] Be diligent in Prayers, [17] as well as the middle/median Prayer, [18] and stand before God with devotion and recollection-contemplation.

[2:239] And if you must fear then on foot or on your mount. [19] Then, once you are safe, remember God as He taught you what you did not know.

-A'-

[2:240] Those who are dying among you and who leave wives, a testamentary bequest must provide their wives with one year's maintenance without expulsion.

But if they decide to leave then no blame on you for the way they will properly dispose of themselves. God is Honourable, Wise

Death

-B'-

[2:241] And for the repudiated: a suitable provision. A duty for the pious vigilant.

Repudiation

[2:242] This is how God clarifies His signs for you so that you may reflect. [20]

Part 1 : fights vs. idolaters

[2:246] Did you not see the congregation of the nobles of the children of Israel, coming after Moses, when they said to one of their prophets: "Bring forth for us a king. We shall fight in the way of God".

He said, "Is it possible that if you were prescribed to fight, you wouldn't fight?"

They said, "What would we have to not fight in the way of God, when surely we have been driven out from our homes as well as our sons?"

And when the battle had commanded them, they turned away except a few among them.

God knows what the unrighteous⁴¹ do.

[2:247] Their prophet said to them, "Surely God has raised up for you Saül as king."

They said, "How could he have royalty over us, when we have more rights than he has to claim royalty, and he is not endowed with wealth in abundance?"

He said, "God certainly chose him in preference to you, and filled him abundantly with knowledge and physical strength".

God gives His royalty to whomever He wants.

God is infinite, All-Knowing.

(b')

[2:248] Their prophet said to them, "Surely the sign of his kingship is that the ark will be brought to you.

In it is a quietness from your Master, and a survival of what was left by the family of Moses and the family of Aaron.

The angels carry it.

Verily in this is a sign for you, if you are truly believers".

[2:249] And when Saül went forth with the troops,

He said, "God will test you by means of a river."

Whoever drinks from it will not be one of mine, and anyone who does not taste it will be one of mine, except for a sip in the palm of his hand".

They all drank from it except a few among them.

And when he passed through it, he and those who had faith with him,

They said, "We will not be able to fight Goliath and his troops today.

Those who were sure they would meet God said, "How often a small troop has triumphed over a larger one, with God's permission."

⁴¹ (Racine: م ل ظ) - 315 occurrences. On the one hand, it is opposed to light, darkness, and on the other hand, it signifies the act of putting something in a place that is not its own, appropriate place. Hence the general meaning of doing harm; or acting wrongly, unjustly, in a harmful or tyrannical manner.

God, certainly, is with the enduring ones".

 [2:250] When they confronted Goliath and his troops,
 They said, "Our Master, pour on us endurance, strengthen our steps and help us against the pagans.
 [2:251] They routed them, with God's permission, and David killed Goliath.

 God gave him kingship and wisdom and taught him what He wanted.
 If God did not repel some people with others, the earth would be corrupt, but God dispenses His favour to men.

 [2:252] These are the signs of God, which We recite to you in all truth.
 And, verily, thou art surely of those who have been sent.

Part 2: fights between believers (faithful vs not faithful)

 [2:253] We have favoured some of these messengers over others.
 There are some to whom God has communicated,
 and He raised others in degrees.

 We have given Jesus, son of Mary, clear evidence, and we strongly assisted him with the Blessed Breath.

 If God had willed it, the people who came after them would not have fought each other after the clear evidence had come to them.
 but they diverged,
 Some had faith and others denied it.

 If God had willed it, they would not have fought each other, but God does what He wants.

X – To God the Absolute Royalty - Call to Serve Him Faithfully

Charity { [2:254] O you who have had faith, spend of what We have provided for you,

 The deniers are the unjust.

Faith { [2:256] No constraint in the way of being in the world.
 Certainly, the path of righteousness has clearly distinguished itself from the path of bewilderment.
 Thus, whoever rejects idols and had faith in God, then he has certainly grasped the solid handle that nothing can break.
 God is Hearing, Knowing.

 [2:257] God is the ally of those who had faith, He brings them out of darkness into the light.
 Those who have denied their allies are idols; they bring them out of the light into the darkness.
 Those are the Companions of the Fire, where they remain permanently.

He said, "I give life and cause death!"
Abraham said, "God makes the sun appear in the east. Make it appear in the west!"

Cosmic: sun

Thus, he who denied was then confounded.
God does not guide unjust people.

[2:259] Or like the one who passed by a deserted city that was nothing but a collapsed ruin and said, "How will God give him back his life when he is dead?"

So, God put him to death for a hundred years,

He said, "I stayed for a day, or part of a day."
He said, "No, you were there for a hundred years."

Then (after they die) scatter a piece of them over each mountain.
Then call them, and they will come to you in haste.

[B'] – Human Kindness -> Men [261...283]

A- The disinterested giving

[2:261] The example of those who spend their goods in the way of God is like a seed producing seven ears, in each ear a hundred seeds.

God multiplies to whomever He wills.

God is Omnipotent, perfectly Knowing.

[2:262] Those who spend their goods in the way of God and then do not follow up what they have spent with reminders of bounty or wrongdoing, for them their reward is with God; they shall have nothing to fear, nor shall they be grieved.

[2:263] A pleasing word and forgiveness is better than almsgiving followed by wrongdoing.

God is Self-sufficient, Forgiving.

[2:264] O you who have had faith, do not render your alms in vain by a reminder of your generosity and a wrong, as one who spends his good for the sake of being seen by people, proof that you do not truly have faith in God and the Last Day.

Thus, his example is like a smooth rock covered with earth, on which a heavy rain fell and left it bare.

They have no rights to what they have acquired.

God does not guide deniers.

[2:265] The example of those who spend their goods seeking the satisfaction of God, as a certainty coming from their inner self, is like a garden on a hill and is subject to heavy rain, which enables it to double its harvest, and, if not heavy rain, fine rain.

God is clairvoyant about what you do.

[2:266] Would any of you like to have a garden of palm trees and vines, at the foot of which rivers flow and which gives him all kinds of fruit, but when old age overtakes him, and his offspring are weak, a storm of burning dust has struck him and burned him?

This is how God clarifies the signs for you so that you can reason.

[2:267] O you who had faith, spend of the good things which ye have acquired and of what We have brought forth for you from the earth.

And choose not for your spending the evil things which you yourselves would not accept without turning away with disdain.

Know that God is sufficient by Himself, that He is worthy of praise.

[2:268] Satan threatens you with the prospect of poverty and asks you to be negligent, while God promises you his forgiveness and generosity.

God is Immense, Perfectly Knowing.

[2:269] He grants wisdom to whomever He pleases.

And he to whom wisdom is granted, is granted an immense good.

But only those who are endowed with intelligence remember this.

[2:270] No matter how much you have spent, or what you have vowed, God knows it.

The unjust have no helpers.

[2:271] If you do acts of charity openly, that is good; but if you do them in secret to the needy, it will be even better for you, and it will atone for some of your evil deeds.

God is, of what you do, Informed.

[2:272] Do not be guided by them, for it is God [alone] who guides whom He wills. And whatever you spend on others is for your own good, provided you spend only out of desire in the sight of God; for whatever you spend will be fully repaid to you, and you will not be wronged.

[2:273] [And give] to them that are in need, who, being completely absorbed by God's cause, cannot walk through the earth [in search of a livelihood]. He that is ignorant of [their condition] may think that they are rich, because they abstain from [begging]; [but] you can recognize them by their special mark: they do not beg men with importunity. And whatever good you spend [for them], God is sure to know it.

[2:274] Those who spend their goods by night and by day, secretly and openly, for them their reward is with God; they shall have nothing to fear, nor shall they be grieved. [22]

The purpose of the expense

The quality of the expense

Recipients of the expense

B- Interest - condemnation

[2:275] Those who consume the loan with potential additional cost [23] stand only as he to whom Satan has played tricks on him and made him lose his mind at his touch.
This is because they said, "Trade is similar to interest.
Whereas God has made commerce lawful and forbade interest.

Thus, he who has ceased after having received the warning of his Master, can keep his past gains, and his case depends only on God.
But he who has reoffended, these are the hosts of the Fire, where they will dwell.

[2:276] God does not make the loan with potential additional cost propitiate, and makes alms bear fruit.
God does not love every wrongdoer.

X- Beyond: Heavenly Paradise as a reward for the farsighted

[2:277] Verily those who had faith and work actively in good works, who have fulfilled the prayer and given the legal alms,
For them their reward is with their Master.
no fear on them, and they shall not be grieved.

B'- Interest – a wake-up call

[2:278] O you who had faith, fear piously God.
and renounce all remaining interests, if you are faithful believers.
[2:279] And if you do not, then receive the announcement of war from God and His messenger.
But if you repent, you will be able to keep your assets.
You will not harm anyone, and you will not be harmed.
[2:280] If there is any difficulty, give him a delay until it is easier for him.
And if you give it up out of charity, it will be better for you, if you knew.
[2:281] Guard yourself against the day when you will be brought back to God.
Then every person will be rewarded for what he or she has acquired. They will not be wronged.

A' - The disinterested loan

[2:282] O you who had faith, when ye have incurred a debt for a fixed term, then write it down, and let a scribe write it down among yourselves with probity.
And let not a scribe refuse to write according to what God has taught him.
Let him write, then, and let him on whom the debt rests dictate.
Let him fear piously God, his Master, and let him not omit anything.
In case the one on whom the debt rests is weak-minded, or weak, or unable to dictate, then his representative must dictate with probity.

And that the witnesses do not refuse to come if they are called.

-X-

Whether it's small or large, don't be afraid to determine in writing what it means.
This is fairer with God,
and more straightforward for testimony,
and more likely to dispel doubt.
Except in the case of an immediate transaction that you negotiate between you.
You are not at fault if you do not write it down.

} Importance of putting debts in writing # Avoid any doubt

-B'-

[2:283] And if you are on a journey and do not find a scribe,
The promises [can be] taken in hand: but if you trust one another, then let him who trusts fill his trust, and let him fear God his Master.
And do not hide what you have witnessed - for verily he that hides it is a wrongdoer in the soul.
God has full knowledge of all that you do.

} No Scribe

[A'] – True Believers vs. Deniers [284...286]

A - God has all power over his creation

[2:284] To God belongs what is in heaven and what is on earth.
And if you disclose what is in yourselves or hide it,
God will hold you accountable.

And He will forgive whoever He wants,
And He will punish whom He wants.⁴²
God has power over everything.⁴³

B – Attitude of the sincere believer: faithful obedience to God and his message

[2:285] The messenger had faith in what was sent down to him from his Master.
as well as sincere believers.
All have had faith in God, His angels, His Writings, and His messengers.
"We make no distinction between His messengers".

They said, "We heard and obeyed voluntarily.
We implore Your forgiveness, Our Master.
To You is the final destination".

A' - Man has the power to orient his destiny

[2:286] God does not impose a difficult thing on a soul except what it wants.
To it that it has acquired,
and against it that it has committed.

B' - Attitude of the sincere believer: humble before God (needing God)

"Our Master do not punish us if we forget or make mistakes.
Our Master, do not burden us with a burden like the one You have burdened our predecessors with."⁴⁴
Our Master do not impose on us that we cannot bear.

Erase our faults, forgive us and show us mercy.
You are our Defender, so help us against those who deny".

⁴² God reminds us of his almighty power over all things as the following segment confirms its meaning. However, God is not capricious or playing Russian roulette with the destiny of Mankind. This omnipotence is put at the service of unconditional love and mercy for the weakness of others. Thus, it is mankind that, through its actions in the broadest sense, will determine its future directions. Verse [2:286] is unambiguous in this regard. God is merciful but also the guardian of the scales, of justice. Man thus forges his own destiny within the limits of the capacity to act that are proper to each person and to the environment in which he evolves. ». Indeed, in creating man, God granted him free will, but only one path, that of righteousness, leads to happiness. But man, conscious of his weakness, in all humility, asks for help and assistance from God without whom he cannot be saved.

⁴³ As he created the heavens and the earth, he has the power to resurrect us and hold us accountable.

⁴⁴ Cf. verse [7:157] about the Jews: "and those who follow the messenger, [...] He commands them what is proper, forbids them what is blameworthy, makes good things lawful for them, forbids bad things for them, and takes away from them the burdens and the shackles that were upon them...».

Conclusion

Three observations on the structure of the parts that form the whole of Sura 2:

1. They are mostly concentric in construction (X=center); 8 out of 11. It is the same for sura 2 taken as a whole.
2. We have a great variety in the structure of the parts.
3. But, remarkably, the parts, which function in symmetrical thematic pairs, have also the same internal structure! as shown in the table below:

	Figures of composition
[A]	A-B-A'-B'	[A']
[B]	A-B [X] B'-A'	[B']
[C]	A [X] A'	[C']
[D]	A-B [X] B'-A'	[D']
[E]	A-B-C [X] C'-B'-A'	[E']
[X]	A-B-A'-B'

The center is often the key to understanding the parts that surround it.

Part [X] plays the pivotal role of tipping over a community which, while following in the footsteps of previous monotheists, has built its own identity. It has not rejected its religious heritage, quite the contrary, but has had the ambition to go beyond it, as the depositary and executor of the last divine message (Muhammad seals the prophecy), and by taking the figure of Abraham, and incidentally that of Ishmael (lineage of Arabs), as models of reference. A community that wants to be an "excellent witness" [2:143], because it is pure in its faith and moderate in its actions.

The Qur'an is also a call to overcome our religious differences and doctrinal divisions that are the source of bloody and incessant conflicts, by recalling the common and ancestral figure of the patriarch Abraham. A call, therefore, to fraternal reconciliation, by overcoming our differences! What unites us must be greater than our rites or our particular beliefs, while remaining faithful to the creed of Abraham.

The open questions that arise for everyone (for Arabs or not):

- ✓ Are we worthy of this legacy?
- ✓ Are we that flaming torch that lights the way through darkness and leads to supreme felicity?
- ✓ Are we role models that others want to be like us in our faith and conduct?
- ✓ Is the Qur'anic Spirit, beyond the letter, still alive and vibrant in our hearts, and does it enliven our souls?
- ✓ Is the Qur'an still alive or has it remained a dead sign?

Notes

The fundamental core meaning of the trilateral root “hamza mīm nūn (أ م ن) “, which occurs 879 times in the Quran, is “Those who are in a internal process of trusting-securing in something or someone - process that should be reflected in our conduct”

[2:2] - Writing with a capital letter W to emphasize the holy character of this Writing. So we must understand this word as a “Holy Writing”. Writing is the symbol of knowledge and science. This knowledge is from divine authority, that is why it is a holy Writing.

The word “dhālika” used here in this verse indicates a remoteness as it comes from heaven. This term also refers to what is preceded, the isolated letters “alif, laam, meem” which are the basic bricks of the writing. The Recitation aims to bring these letters together into a coherent whole (etymology of the word Quran), so that it is understandable to their interlocutors. Finally, these letters constitute in themselves a source of knowledge ... which remains to be studied and elucidated!

[2:3] i.e. Salat - “l-ṣalāti”.

The ṣalāt, a word borrowed by the Arabs from Syriac, which we translate as “solemn prayer”, but which strictly speaking means “piety expressed by attitudes” (prostration, genuflection etc.). Thus, the word salawat which means prostration in Syriac, and which designates the Syrian Churches in [2:40]. Without this borrowing, one cannot understand its use in the Quran to designate a religious edifice dedicated to prostration (a synecdoche). The Arabs thus designate by this word the solemn prayer as a “Profession of submission”, to use the expression of Claude CAHEN in his work “L'Islam des origines au début de l'empire ottoman, tome 14 de l'Histoire universelle Bordas, Paris, 1970”.

The Quran evokes prayer more than a hundred times and names it indiscriminately: ṣalāt (solemn prayer), du‘ā' (invocation), dhikr (remembrance), tasbīḥ (praise), etc. These are mostly prayers of adoration that raise the creature towards its creator and educator. The prayer of petition has naturally, “humanly”, its place as well. As for solemn prayer, it is an ever-renewed opportunity to consecrate a few moments of the day to God and to commune with him, for the joy of the praying person and his benefit (by bringing information and pure energy) in this life and in the hereafter.

This communion is found in the root: “to connect two things so that they may be in intimacy. » :

[24:58] O you who have believed, let those whom you possess by oath ask your permission, as well as those of yours who have not yet reached puberty, at three times: before Salāt al-Fajr, when you take off your clothes at noon, as well as after Salāt al-Isha: three moments of intimacy.
= Connect with the Divine by stripping of our ego.

- Complementary study for the in-depth understanding the concept of Salat:

- The Arabs of the Qur’an moment used the root of this word to designate “the second horse in the race which follows closely the first” (AL-MUSSALLI)

- Thus, from this word usage, we can extract two essential characteristics of the concept of Salat linked to the Divine entity :
 - Connect to the divine in an intimate way
 - Be withdrawn and be humble

In short, connecting to a higher principle (God alone in the Qur’an context).

- The Arabs of the Qur’an period also used the root of this word to designate two processes:

- In connection with fire:
 - “Heat over a fire to straighten and soften a green wooden stick”
 - “Approach the fire, hold something in front of the fire to heat or roast”.
- In connection with the back:
 - “Touch, hurt, hit someone on the back”
 - “Having a loose, soft and lowered part of the back (said of a mare close to give birth)”
- Thus, from these words’ usages, we can extract two characteristic traits of people in connection with the concept of Salat:
 - Either the Salat is warming your heart by nourishing your faith and softening your behaviour,

- Either your heart is hard, and the correction of the fire will take care of softening it in order to redress it and set it straight.

[87: 9] So reminder, the reminder is useful (nafa'ati).

[87:10] The reminder He will pay heed one who cares for its preservation,

[87:11] And will avoid it the wretched one.,

[87:12] The one who is burning (yaşlā) into the great Fire.

[2:74] Then after that your hearts hardened, like stone or even harder.

There are stones from which rivers flow, and others that split so that water may appear,
and others who run down for fear of God.
God is not ignorant of what you are doing.

[2:25] More precisely any act/deed taken that can be qualified as "good, upright, just, right, virtuous or honest; or suitable, or balanced / restoring the natural and harmonious order of things."

[5]

[2:30]

Point 1 :

- This passage underlines wonderfully the quality of benevolence-mercy of God towards the children of ADAM BEFORE the effective start of his mission as representative of God on earth. (passage [B] deals with the children of ADAM in the exercise of his mission of representative):

1) First act: the trust deposit

- [33:72] We proposed the deposit of trust to the heavens, to the earth and to the mountains and then they refused to take charge of it and refrained from it, whereas Man took charge of it. Man is really very unfair, very ignorant.

2) Second act: divine indulgence by the breath of internal benefits inside Men

- God learned the names / characteristics of beings
- God breathed into Man his divine breath

3) Third act: divine indulgence by placing Man in a Garden of easy abundance and tranquility by limiting the constraints to just 1.

4) Fourth act: divine indulgence through external benefits for Men

- Expelled from the Paradise Garden but on earth he will find rest and provision (he will lack nothing)
- Expelled from the Paradise Garden but he will send guidance to Men

Logical warning at the end of the passage: if despite these 3 acts of Benevolence and the example of Adam (who repented), patriarch of humanity, Man continues to be deaf to the calls of divine goodness by showing himself ungrateful by the entirety of his being, then this will be the path to correction by fire.

Point 2 : Alternative structure in two parts by Nouman Ali Khan

- First part (verses 2:30-34):

- Second part (verses 2:34-39):

[2:30] – « qālū ».

The reaction of the Angels is fundamentally different compared to that of Iblis.

The reaction of doubt of the Angels is based on the potential bad behavior of the Man whereas Iblis, in his refusal to submit to the divine order to bow down before adam, uses the vile argument of the comparison between the matter of which is made Adam and himself (judged by him superior), and the anteriority of his creation (primacy).

[2:34] – « us'judū ».

The Arabs used this root to refer to a tree that tilts towards the earth because it is loaded with fruit so much that the branches flex under the weight.

The word "sajada" refers to both an external dimension and an inner dimension:

- External dimension: lowering / tilting the head, being on the ground / depressed towards the ground, which leans towards the ground, looking at someone with downcast eyes
- Inner dimension: who humbles himself, who humbles himself, who submits, who humbles himself, shows reverence (respect or obedient listening)

The combination of these two dimensions is found when someone is in a humble posture.

[2:36] - « l-shaytān » : Satan in English is a proper-name-function.

- Its function designates "the tempting and evil furtive breath which never ceases to remove and disperse durably from the Mercy and benefactor matrix of our Sustainer Master / of God".

- In the plural, this tempting and evil breath refers to satanic spirits or demons, which can be embodied by jinns (invisible spirits or geniuses and potentially source of inspiration and possession, which haunts desert spaces and hot in the imagination 7th century Arab, and organized in tribes / clans like humans), or Men (Cf. sura 114)

- On the other hand, in the singular, accompanied by the particle alif + lam of determination, refers exclusively to Iblis who becomes "the cursed Satan" after his fall until the day of Resurrection and beyond.

[2:43] – « zakat ».

Cf. [2:3] "... And of what we have provided for them, they spend generously".

Cf. [30:39] and the condemnation of the misuse of the principle of Riba "... to increase at the expense of people's property..", in opposition to the principle of Zakat.

In summary, an eminently positive term which indicates improvement, well-being.

[2:177] – « l-mashriqi wal-maghribi » : « the sunrise and sunset ».

- This expression, which comes up 3 times in each of the passages [E] - [X] - [E], seems to us to be an essential pivot for understanding the controversy about Qibla (we underlined it with the purple color) .

- Allow me to repeat the explanation of the verse [2:115] by Sayyid Abul Ala Maududi in his book "Tafhim al-Qur'an", as it seems to me to be the most consistent with the literality of the text:

« That is, "God is not confined to any one direction, eastern or western, but is Master of all directions and places. If a particular direction is fixed for worship, it does not mean that God resides in that direction only. There is, therefore, no need to enter into disputes as to why a certain direction and place has been fixed instead of the other or why faces were at first turned towards a particular direction but now are being turned towards a different direction and a different place. " God is neither limited nor narrow-minded nor short-sighted nor indigent, as they suppose He is. On the contrary, His Kingdom is boundless and so are His vision and generosity. He also knows which of His servants remembers Him and also where and when and with what intention.»

And the commentary of verse [2:177] by the same author:

« In order to show the futility of excessive emphasis on external religious forms, it has been pointed out, as an instance, that there is no real virtue in the mere act of turning faces to the east or to the west in prayer. For the mere performance of some religious rites or formalities or show of piety is not real virtue which may have any importance or value with God. »

- Having said that, here is a summary of the chronology of the case:

A - [2:115] - Recall of the insignificance of a Qibla for guidance (any direction is valid)

X - [2:144] - Divine choice of a specific Qibla for the community of Muhammed in connection with Abraham and the House - Focal point for gathering people during salat sessions or pilgrimage

A' - [2:177] - Recall of the insignificance of a Qibla for guidance (any direction is valid).

[2:183] - « L-sivāmu » - Fasting / Abstinence.

- The arabic term sivam can be attached to the Arabic root sama which means To keep a horse tied up, without eating or drinking, to harden it, and masam refers to the place where the horse stands upright, where it is tied up.

The second related notion is about respite through the following uses :

- calm down, soften up (said of a wind or a heat)
- reach midday at the hottest of the day because at that time we are resting
- take the shade under the tree

I also refer you to the statements of the famous lexicologist Ibn Faris, on the uses of this root, and which confirms our speech : https://www.haqeeqat.pk/roots/\(853\).htm.htm).

Sivam is therefore an expiatory fast consisting in abstaining from eating, drinking and trading in the flesh. Feed for the body's vital functions is put to rest for a limited time.

Apart from the passage on Ramadan, the nominal form Siyam appears 6 other times in 5 different contexts:

- [2:196]: context of the pilgrimage - it has the meaning of compensation, redemption in exchange for not being able to do something considered normal.
- [4:92] - context of unintentionally killed believer - it has the meaning of repentance if financial compensation cannot take place.
- [5:89] - context of oath violated - it has the meaning of atonement if financial compensation cannot take place.
- [5:95] - context of game killed in unauthorized period - it has the meaning of compensation if financial compensation cannot take place.
- [58:4] - context of illicit repudiation of women - it has the meaning of atonement for the wrong committed

Conclusion: this term appears clearly in the context of fault repair.

Hence my translation as "repairer fasting", a fast which offers a way out, a possible redemption from the faults committed.

- But, the arabic word sawm (form that appears only once in the Quran) is a vow of silence (fasting of speech), like the example of Mary in the sura which bears her name [19:27]. In fact, this kind of fasting corresponded to a Christian ascetic practice.

2:184] - "ayyāman ma‘dūdātin"

The word "ma‘dūdātin" basically means "numbered and hence, by extension, few".

This plural form is particularly used to indicate a plural of paucity (low, little, small number), which many sholars believe to be between 3 and 10.

The Lane's Lexicon dictionary testifies to this particular use:

مَعْدُودَاتٌ [meaning Numbered, counted...] is applied to any number, little or large; but مَعْدُودَاتٌ more particularly denotes few; and so, does every pl. formed by the addition of ا and ت, as ذُرَيْهَمَاتٌ and حَمَامَاتٌ; though it is allowable to use such a pl. to denote muchness.

Apart from the verse [2:184], the Quran uses this plural form in 4 other places (2:80; 2:203; 3:24; 12:20), and it explicitly expresses this plural of paucity:

- ✓ [12:20] "They sold it for a low price, a few of dirhams. They considered him to be of little value.
 - This plural of paucity is reinforced using the words "bakhshin = weak" and "l-zāhidīna = something that one can do without or have no desire; hence find something small, trivial, with a little value.
- ✓ [2:80] and [3:24] "The fire will touch us only for a few days"
 - Belief that the Jewish purgatory is limited, in the worst case, to a few days - the numbers 7 or 10 days are usually mentioned.
- ✓ [2:203] "Remember God for a few days; he who hastens in two days does not sin, and he who stays longer does not commit a fault."
 - 3 days.

Finally, to finish the demonstration, this plural of paucity, especially by the addition of ا and ت, is found in 1 other verse with another word (the number 7 is mentioned - between 3 and 10):

- ✓ [12:43] The king said: "I see seven fat cows eaten by seven thin ones, and seven ears (sunbulātin) green and others dry..."
- ✓ [2:261] The example of those who spend their goods in the way of God is like a seed that produces seven ears (sanābila) and in each ear is a hundred seeds ...

The translators have translated two identical roots which have a different plural form. Where does this difference in the use of the plural come from? As very often the textual context is the key:

1. in verse [12:43], we are in the presence of a context of famine; hence the use of a plural which accounts for this situation (some ...),
2. in verse [2:261] we are in the presence of a context of abundance; hence the use of a plural which bears the mark of this generosity (a lot ...).

Let us return to our verse [2:184], which is inserted in a subpart (verses 2:183-184), dedicated to the universality of fasting as a practice common to the various monotheistic traditions and, in context, with reference to the Jews (cf. book of Torah for the institutionalization of fasting as mortification or humiliation of the soul, which is also linked to the notion of rest: Leviticus 16:29, Leviticus 16:31, Leviticus 23:27, Leviticus 23:32, Numbers 29:7).

By using the term "ma'dūdātin", the Qur'an universalizes this practice first to "counted days of small number" (< 11) - Tradition refers to 3 days per month + the fasting of ashoura.

Note that if we consider that verses 183 and 184 are not abrogated by those dedicated to the fasting of Ramadan, then this term could have taken on, in a second time, the meaning of "Number of limited/counted days" (without being between 3 and 10 days).

Thus, the Qur'anic text, in its final drafting, bears witness to a specificity in its application of religious practices distinct from those of the Jews of Medina; like the matter of the Qibla for prayer in (2:143).

This is the case with the Qibla for prayer in (2:143). Thus, we are witnessing the establishment of the lineaments of a new community attached to the Qur'anic messenger, which is both in continuity with the previous monotheistic communities and in "specificity/breakthrough" in the observance of certain religious obligations.

[2:185] - The first remark about this verse is that the main subject, point and purpose of the verse is the first wording of the verse, so it is the "month of Ramadan".

The second thing to emphasize is that the word Ramadan comes from Ramad which means "intense heat". So the lunar month of Ramadan is the lunar month of intense heat. And at this time of year the Arabs were hoping that the rain would come and relieve them of the scorching sun and the heat stored in the ground. The descent of the Qur'an which softens souls is like the long-awaited and hoped-for rain which softens thirsty bodies. A symbolic image that was to speak to the hearts of Arabs at the time of the Quran.

Where to place this month originally in a twelve-month lunar calendar?

I reproduce here the proposal of the French historian Mr. Armand-Pierre Caussin de Perceval, in his writing entitled: "Memoire sur le Calendrier Arabe avant l'islamisme" (reference year 412 A.D.), which seems to me to be quite relevant:

1. Mouharrem: from November 21 to December 21
2. Safar: from December 21 to January 19
3. Rabi I (rainy month): from January 19th to February 18th
4. Rabi II (continuation of rain, vegetation): February 18 to March 19
5. Jumada I (rains become scarce or cease): March 19 to April 18
6. Jumada II (no rain): April 18 to May 17
7. Redjeb: May 17 to June 16
8. Chabaan: from June 16 to July 15
- 9. Ramadhaan (high heat - hot ground): July 15 to August 14
10. Chewwaal: August 14 to September 12
11. Dhoulcada: from September 12 to October 12
12. Dhulhidja: from October 12 to November 10

Obviously, this lunar month was not fixed, and shifted by about 11 days per lunar year before it was decided to use the intercalary month al-nasī (which means "the deferred") to readjust the lunar calendar with the seasons (luni-solar calendar), like the Jewish calendar.

This month was to be the last month of summer. In a luni-solar calendar, it was expected to fall on average between mid-August and mid-September. Summer trailers often left early in the summer to avoid travel as much as possible in this painful and uncomfortable month. It was also before the start of the open-air markets and the fall season of pilgrimages. In short, a month of inactivity, calm and rest, well sheltered from the overwhelming heat of the sun; and therefore, conducive to a fast. It is for this reason that if ever they were away from their home (on a caravan trip), at the start of the month of Ramadan (knowing that depending on the year this month could vary slightly), then the Quran allows them to be able to make up for those missing days later. This relief also intervenes in case of temporary illnesses.

Thus, practicing fasting is at the same time:

1. to be in good health, and conversely not to be sick,
2. to be in a state of stase/stationary state, and conversely not to be far from his home.

In brief, a period of relative inactivity conducive to supporting the fast and focusing on God and his message.

 Verse [106:2] - "l-ṣayfi" = summer, more precisely designates the season immediately following spring, and not the hotter and more advanced summer.

[2:190] Here is the historian Jacqueline Chabbi's comment on this verse and of what it reveals about the original environment in which Muhammad was born:

"Qitâl - "Fight those who fight you but do not be transgressors".

It can be said that in the whole corpus concerning action in the Qur'an, it is this verse of 2,190 that best defines the rule that applied in the 7th century in tribal society, that of the Qur'an. As for the act of killing, it was a reply, following a betrayal as in 4:89 and again except for having to respect a covenant as in 4:90.

This simply means that, in this society of the past, staying alive counted more than anything else. Killing was the last resort. Whenever possible, compromise and negotiation were favoured.

So those who today cling to the first words of verse 9:5 to believe that they are authorized to "kill the Deniers" and consider it a timeless religious duty would do well to learn to read and contextualize." (Link).

[2:226-232] This passage serves two purposes:

- 1) Rules as to the number of repudiates allowed and setting the time limits for men (period of separation before repudiating) and women (waiting period to determine the possible filiation of the unborn child).
- 2) To protect the wife from her husband's abuses. Thus:

- The waiting time of the husband before repudiation is limited to 4 months instead of an unlimited period. Indeed, men in the pre-qur'anic period used to renounce their wives for one year, two years and sometimes more. God has limited this period to four months. This is to avoid the heavy harm inflicted on women when a man did not want a wife and did not like that another man could marry her, he simply swore that he would never approach her without time constraint. So he would not let her be repudiated or married.

- Dowry and Gifts: Women's Right to Absolute Enjoyment.

- Equal treatment regarding subsistence between men and women during the waiting period, and a reminder of the man's duties to those who depended on him.

- Preventing the ex-wife from remarrying either by physically restraining her from marrying or by obstructing her by immoral means.

However, the ex-wife is free to curtail her rights in a consensual manner. Moreover, she must respect the patriarchal system in force at the beginning of the 7th century in Western Arabia (filiation by the father), balanced against the responsibilities incumbent on the father.

Three complementary remarks and a conclusion about the structuring of this passage:

1/- The 4 pieces [a-b-x-a'-b'] are each composed of 2 parts which deal first with a general theme before clarifying a particular point:

-A-

Generality [2 :234]

Clarification [2 :235]

-B-

Generality [2 :236]

Clarification [2 :237]

-X-

Generality [2 :238]

Clarification [2 :239]

-A'-

Generality [2 :240]

Clarification [2 :240]

-B'-

Generality [2 :241]

Clarification [2 :242]

2/- The 5 pieces deal with the need to establish support links that provide security to the most fragile, in a horizontal and vertical direction:

-A-

Horizontal: Supportive and secure relationship (men -> wives)

-B-

Horizontal Supportive and secure relationship (men -> wives)

-X-

Vertical: Secure Support Link (God -> Men)

-A'-

Horizontal: Supportive and secure relationship (men -> wives)

-B'-

Horizontal: Supportive and secure relationship (men -> wives)

3/- The location of the passage on the importance of prayer is not insignificant in the whole of part [D'] which deals with the key elements of the new covenant with the Qur'anic messenger (cf. note 20). One additional analysis can be made here: indeed, one of the purposes of prayer is to remind ourselves of our rights and duties in this new covenant. And what could be more emblematic than that the Qur'an places this piece [2: 238-239] in the middle of a passage that aims to guarantee financial support and protection to women weakened by the rupture of the marital bond (linked to death or repudiation).

In addition, the keywords "niṣ'fu/half" and "wus'tā/median" link verses [2: 237] and [2: 238].

Finally, the keywords "khif'tum/you had to fear for your life" and "yutawaffawna/death" link verses [2: 239] and [2:240].

Conclusion:

I think this passage clearly demonstrates the key role of Semitic rhetoric in enhancing the organization of discourse, and its comprehension at different levels of reading. Otherwise, without these tools, discourse can seem at first sight to be disarticulated and without logical links. A logic presides over the discourse, but one must know it in order to better appreciate its flavour and meditate by linking its harmonious hymns.

[17]

[2:238] i.e. "Observe carefully the solemn/rituals Prayers".

Most commentators understand that this refers to daily prayers.

Then, the question that comes immediately into our mind is this: How many? At least three...

- From the point of view of tradition:

The most accepted view is summarized by the words of Ibn Al Kathir in his commentary on verse [50:40]:

"(and glorify the praises of your Master, before the rising of the sun and before its setting). Two prayers were ordained before the journey of Isra'. One before sunrise at dawn and the other before sunset in the evening. Qiyam Al-Layl, the night prayer, was a commandment for the Prophet and his followers for a time but was later abrogated for the Ummah. Later, during the journey of Isra', God abrogated all previous prayer orders by ordering five daily prayers, including Fajr prayers before sunrise, and `Asr in the late afternoon. »

The word "ṣalawāt" appears in this form five times throughout the Qur'an (2:157; 2:238; 9:99; 22:40; 23:9). However, only 3 times this form is related to the practice of prayer.

- What does the text say?

1. Prerequisite: the length of the day and night

Here's what Lane's Lexicon dictionary says about it:

« لَا أُذِلُّجُ اللَّيْلَ وَلَكِنْ أُبْتَكِرُ » [I am not one of the night-time, but I am one of the day-time; I do not journey in the night, but I go forth early in the morning]: as though he said ↓ نَهَارَى . (Sb.) The verse is correctly related as above; not as it is given in the S. (IB.) — -b2- See also نُهَارٌ نُهَارٌ. Day; or day-time; contr. of لَيْلٌ: (S, TA:) or broad daylight, (Mgh,) from sunrise to sunset: (Mgh, Msb, K:) this is the original signification: (TA:) or this is the signification in the vulgar conventional language: but in the classical language it signifies the time from the rising of the dawn to sunset: (Msb:) or the light between the rising of the dawn and sunset: (K:) and so accord. to the lawyers: (TA:) in the trads., it is the whiteness of the نَهَار, and the blackness of the لَيْل; and there is nothing intervening between the لَيْل and the نَهَار: but sometimes the Arabs amplified, and applied نَهَار to the time from the clear shining of the dawn to the setting [of the sun]: (Msb.) or (so accord. to the TA. but in some copies of the K, and the spreading of the light [which is a cause] of sight and its dispersion ».

We can see that this notion was rather fluid, as illustrated by the fasting verse (2:187) where the end of the night begins at the first rays of dawn.

2. Conclusion coming from the qur'anic text

No evidence for five Prayer time.

- Rather, the Prayer daily times appear to be three in number:

1. The dawn Prayer. (1)
 2. The late afternoon prayer, at the end of the day, when the sun is setting. (2)
 3. The night prayer, after sunset. (3)
- [17:78-79] Perform the Prayer from the setting of the sun until the darkness begins to envelop everything at the start of the night (2). And [recite] the Quran at dawn (1), for the Quran at dawn is witnessed. And during the night (3), keep vigil with it, an additional act for you. It may be that your Lord will resurrect you to a praiseworthy station.
 - [11:114] Perform the Prayer at the two ends of the day (1)/(2) and at the hours of the night (3) near the two limits of the day. Good deeds dispel bad deeds. This is a reminder for those who remember.

- Finally, a weekly collective Prayer is established in Medina, at midday. (Surah 62)

[2:238] « *Salât al-Wusta ». (Wusta – root: وس ط).

- وَسْطَى : average / middle (finger), medius (finger) / median

I.e. The midday prayer on Friday, the day of Assembly (cf. note 17 above). It begins in the middle of the day, when the sun is at its zenith. It is situated at the centre of the two other Prayers (beginning and end of the day). It is also the Prayer that was prescribed the latest. It serves as a gathering on Fridays. It is also the one that competes with activities related to the afternoon nap, but especially with commerce and bartering, as mentioned in [62:9-11] or in [24:37].

- It is interesting to note that, from a rhetorical analysis point of view, verses 238 and 239 form a part that is in the middle of a passage [234-242].

Moreover, because of its specific theme (the solemn prayer), which contrasts with the theme surrounding this part, it makes the addition of the word "especially" to the phrase: "and (especially) the medial solemn prayer" credible.)

Moreover, in verse [2:238] alone, the two words "wal-ṣalati l-wus'ṭā" ("and the solemn median prayer") occupy the middle of the verse in terms of words (3 words before and after) and in terms of letters (14 letters before and after).

[2:239]

- This verse reminds the context of the verses [4:101-103] where, in the face of a danger of military confrontation, the Qur'an authorizes the shortening of (common) prayer.

Two reflections on the general structure of part [D']:

- (1) Relationship between the beginning and the end: the common theme of "death" which frames this long part dedicated to the new covenant.

- (2) Relationship between the end of subpart A-B and the end of subpart B'-A': the evocation of three important religious worship elements that are Fasting and Prayer, and the pilgrimage located at the center of B' (B' being the only concentric passage, the other passages being organized around two main parts).

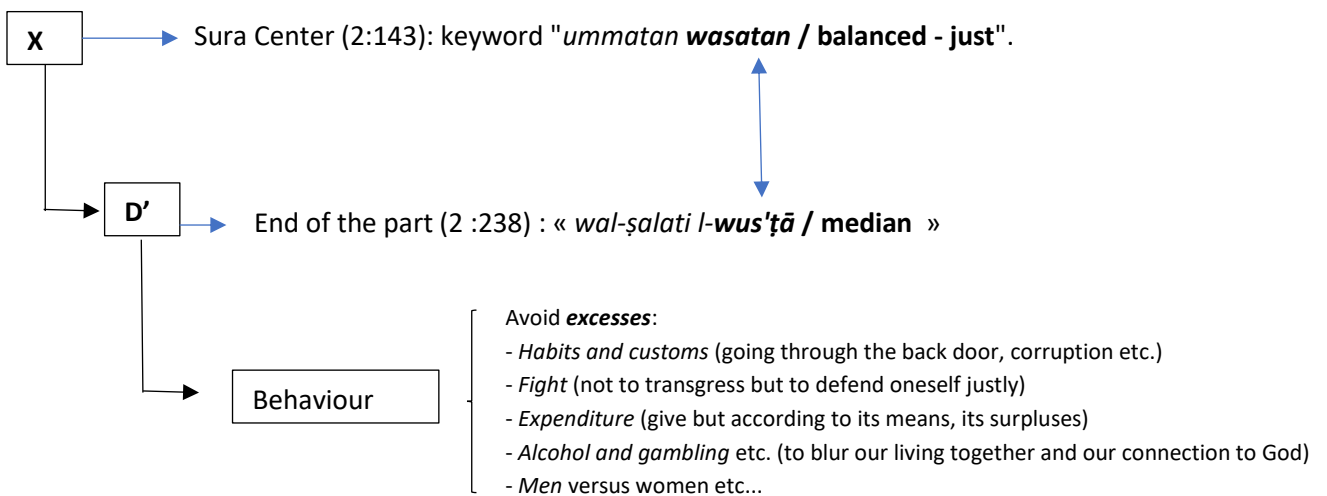

These three elements, which shape a religious community, are placed in a privileged way in this long part. The striking fact is that this new community is both in continuity in its religious practices (prayer, pilgrimage and fasting) and also in specificity in its rituals, compared to pre-existing monotheistic communities.

Finally, these religious elements that cement a community are surrounded by elements governing the new balanced community, whose general principle that runs through the whole is the principle of balance and harmony, or the absence of excess. In short, religious acts at the service of harmonious and balanced behaviour.

More general reflection on the relationship between the center of the sura and part D' (first level of structure):

[21]

- Additional exploration:

- The center of [A] echoes the extremities of [X] which concerns the sincere believers of the Qur'anic moment (4th Lund's law: "in many cases ideas will move from the center of one system to the extremities of another system built to go with the first one by correspondence").

Structure [C']

[2:261 - 274]

In short, in 3 parts, the verses exhort believers to spend by warning them of the following:

1. The purpose of spending: It should be to seek God's satisfaction only, selflessly, and not followed by rebuke or bluster.
2. The quality of the wealth to be spent: It should be lawful and good, and not illicit or worthless.
3. The qualification of the beneficiaries: No discrimination. Thus, this expenditure must benefit those who have voluntarily chosen poverty by having invested themselves totally in God's cause, and also the needy of other beliefs.

If Men spend in charity with the warnings in mind, then they will have their rewards for such spending from God and in many ways! (the theme of reward frames the game).

[2:275]

- Riba": this word goes far beyond usury or "interest loan", hence my translation by "interest".

By "interest", I mean any surcharge on the "tangible" capital loaned at maturity (in kind or in cash). That this surcharge (1) is added to the initial debt at the time of contractualization, and/or (2) following an extension of maturity for financial difficulty. It is moreover this second practice (in context: doubling of the capital remaining due), which is above all condemned in the Quran, because it consists in taking advantage of the weakness of others in order to get rich! Hence the opposition with the practice of disinterested charity.

- Context of revelation about the verses [2:275-280]:

Case (1):

"Ibn 'Abbas who said: "We heard, and God knows best, that this verse was revealed about the Banu 'Amr ibn 'Umayr ibn 'Awf, from Thaqif, and Banu'l-Mughirah, from Banu Makhzum, because Banu'l-Mughirah used to borrow from Thaqif money with usury. When God, exalted is He, made His Messenger conquer Mecca, He abolished all usurious transactions. Banu 'Amr ibn 'Umayr and Banu'l-Mughirah, then, went to see 'Attab ibn Usayd who was in Mecca. Banu'l-Mughirah said: 'Why are we the most wretched of all people? Usury has been cancelled from amongst people, but we still pay it'. The Banu 'Amr ibn 'Umayr said: 'The treaty that we have stipulates that usury is paid to us. 'Attab sent a letter to the Messenger of God, God bless him and give him peace, regarding this matter. Then this verse and the verse after it (And if ye do not, then be warned of war (against you) from God and His messenger...) were revealed. The Banu 'Amr knew that they would not be paid usury when the result involves a war from God and His Messenger. God, exalted is He, says: (And if ye repent, then ye have your principal (without interest)) such that you would not take more (Wrong not, and ye shall not be wronged) by being given less than your capital".

Case (2) :

" 'Ata' and 'Ikrimah also said: "This verse was revealed about al-'Abbas ibn 'Abd al-Muttalib and 'Uthman ibn 'Affan who had lent someone dates. When it was time for the collection of the dates, the owner of the dates said to them: 'If you take all of what is due to you what remains will not be enough for me and my dependents. Why do you not take half of what is due to you and I will double the interest that was initially agreed?' They both agreed. When the term was due, they both asked the man to pay what was agreed. This reached the Messenger of God, God bless him and give him peace, and he warned them against going ahead with it. Allah, exalted is He, then revealed this verse. Both 'al-'Abbas ibn 'Abd al-Muttalib and 'Uthman ibn 'Affan complied and took back only the capital they initially lent to the man."

"(And if the debtor is in a difficult situation...) [2:280]. Said al-Kalbi: "The Banu 'Amr ibn 'Umayr said to the Banu 'l-Mughirah: 'Give us our capital and we will spare you the payment of interest on it. The Banu'l-Mughirah said, "We are now in a difficult situation, please give us some respite until the harvest time. The Banu'l-Mughirah refused this request. God, exalted be He, then revealed (And if the debtor is in a difficult situation...)". »

- NB: I will not enter here into the modern debate which consists in wondering whether commercial banks (and the central bank institution that supports them), fall into the category of trade or the "Quranic concept of Riba". Nowadays, in fact, money (a virtual and largely dematerialized good) is bought for itself, and is resold at a profit like any other material good.

Sub-Part A': Spiritual life – Movement with Pilgrimage (1)	158

INTERPRETATION

The first part (A) and the fourth part (A') are connected by the following themes:

- The first part ends with Abraham's wish to have an Arab heir who recites God's revelations [2:129]. And the fourth part begins with Abraham's wish being granted! [2:151]
- The first part informs us that Abraham is the founder of the house/temple in Mecca with his son Ishmael for worship and pilgrimage, and the fourth part adds that As-Safa and Al-Marwah (two rocks near the Temple) are part of "God's rites" during the pilgrimage.
- Abraham was tested [2:124] in the first part, as was his heir Muhammad and his followers in the fourth part, by using the word resilience in [2:153].

- The sacred place of worship is made for prayer in the first part. The fourth part emphasises the importance of prayer.

The second part (B) and the third part (B') complement each other:

- The second part deals with spiritual orientation, directly related to Abraham's creed
- The third part deals with physical orientation, directly related to the temple erected by Abraham with Ishmael's help

VOCABULARY

- Qiblah

The trilateral root qāf bā lām (ق ب ل) occurs 294 times in the Quran, in 13 derived forms - seven times as the noun qib'lat (قِبْلَة). This form qib'lat can mean: 1. Side facing us, point towards which our gaze is directed. Hence, 2. Point in the sky where one imagines an object towards which one must turn one's gaze to pray; specifically. Direction of Mecca (for Muslims) or Jerusalem (for Jews). 3. The South, southern side of the sky. 4. Facing each other - Set up your tents or build your houses facing each other. 5. The front, the narrowest side of a certain musical instrument

So, verse [10:87], often misunderstood, must be translated like this (by respecting the form qib'lat): "And We inspired to Moses and his brother: "Set aside for your people some houses in Egypt and make your homes facing one another, and hold the contact prayer. And give good news to the believers."

- Masjid

The trilateral root sīn jīm dāl (س ج د) occurs 92 times in the Quran, in four derived forms - 28 times as the noun masjid (مَسْجِد)

Etymologically, the term masjid is the noun of place derived from the root sajada, meaning to bow towards the ground, as in a branch laden with fruit, and for a human, to bow humbly to the point of touching the ground, hence to prostrate oneself and by extension: to worship, to pray, initially in a secular sense and later in a religious sense.

By definition, a masjid is therefore a place of worship, any place where people gather to celebrate the worship of a deity, i.e. a temple/masjid, more specifically any place where God is worshipped. The term masjid in the singular, determined by the article al-masjid, and followed by the qualifier harâm/sacred, stands for the Sacred Temple/ al-masjid al-harâm, i.e. precisely the Kaaba and its enclosure

Sura 65 - At-Talaq (The repudiation)

A	1. O Prophet! When ye do repudiate wives, repudiate them at their prescribed periods, and count (accurately), their prescribed periods: and be cautious of God your Lord: ----- Turn them not out of their houses, nor shall they (themselves) leave, except in case they are guilty of some open lewdness, those are limits set by God: and any who transgresses the limits of God, does verily wrong his (own) soul: thou knowest not if perchance God will bring about thereafter some new situation. ----- 2. Composition

The rhetorical analysis leads to a division into two distinct main parts (1-7 and 8-12), but rhetorically linked as we shall see. Each part is arranged concentrically in A - X - A'.

The two parts of the sura can give the appearance of dealing with two independent textual units, without any real probative relationship between them, as assembled by the arbitrary choice of the final editor. However, links and rhetorical elements exist between these two parts which ultimately give the sura a unity of whole:

- ✓ The word "commandment" that frames the second part is found in key places in the first part. Moreover, the root "hamza mīm rā", which is evoked 10 times in the whole body of the sura's text, is a structuring element of the whole. More precisely, the evocation of the "descent" of the divine "commandment" is found in both parts, and comes to close the sura as a conclusion.
- ✓ The first part begins with an apostrophe of the "Prophet", and the second part begins by evoking "the Messengers of the past" and then the Qur'anic "messenger". The terms "Prophet" and "Messenger" are the two sides of the Messenger of God.
- ✓ Thematically, the first part is an example of a divine "command" that has been sent down that we are supposed to obey, and for which we will be held accountable. In this sense, the second part deals with the threat of Torment here on earth, in the Hereafter and the promise of reward in the Hereafter if one has complied with the divine injunctions transmitted by the messengers of God. The theme of the reward in the Hereafter also links the two parts.

Finally, the center of the second part is a perfect hinge between the two units it links (1st law of Lund): the first member ("God has prepared for them a hard torment") refers to what precedes, completing the threat of Torment here on earth (theme of part A) with that of the hereafter; the second ("Take heed therefore to God, O you who are gifted with insight, [you] who had faith! ") foreshadows what follows, which is faith in the message sent down from heaven and obedience to its command in order to enjoy the reward of the Heavenly Garden.

Sura 66 - At-Tahrim (The interdiction)

A

1. O Prophet !

Why, in seeking the pleasure of your wives, do you forbid yourself that which God has made lawful for you?
But God is Off-Forgiving, Most Merciful.

2. God has already ordained for you, the expiation of your oaths (in some cases):
and God is your Protector, and He is Full of Knowledge and Wisdom.

3. When the Prophet disclosed a matter in confidence to one of his wives, and she then divulged it, and God made it known to him, he confirmed part thereof and passed over a part.
Then when he told her thereof, she said, "Who told thee this?"
He said, "He told me Who is the Knower, the Aware."

4. If ye two turn in repentance to God, your hearts are indeed so inclined.
but if ye back up each other against him, truly God is his Protector,
And after him Gabriel, the righteous believers and the angels are his helpers and supporters.

5. It may be, if he divorced you (all), that God will give him in exchange wives better than you, women who abandon themselves entirely to God, firm in faith, devout, repentant, adoring, enduring in piety, previously married and virgins.

6. O ye who had faith!

Save yourselves and your families from a Fire whose fuel is Men and Stones,

But do (precisely) what they are commanded.

in the hope that your Lord will remove from you your evil deeds and admit you to Gardens beneath which Rivers flow,

9. O Prophet !

Strive hard against the Deniers and the Hypocrites, and be harsh with them.
Their abode is Hell, - an evil refuge (indeed).

10. God sets forth, for an example to the Deniers, the wife of Noah and the wife of Lüt:
they were (respectively) under two of our righteous servants, but they betrayed their (husbands), and they profited nothing before God on their account, but were told: "Enter ye the Fire along with (others) that enter!"

11. And God sets forth, as an example to those who had faith the wife of Pharaoh:
Behold she said: "O my Lord! Build for me, in nearness to Thee, a mansion in the Garden, and save me from Pharaoh and his doings, and save me from those that do wrong».

12. And Mary the daughter of Ìmrán, who guarded her chastity.
and We breathed into (her body) of Our spirit.

Composition

The rhetorical analysis results in a division into three parts (1-5; 6-8; 9-12), arranged concentrically as A - X - A'. Parts A and A' are composed of two sub-parts, the second of which is structured in three textual units. As for the central part (X) it is structured in a concentric way in the same structure as the whole sura in A - X - A'.

The center X is often related to the eschatological theme in the Qur'an, especially in the so-called Meccan suras. The reminder that "God will not afflict the prophet with evil" at the end of time (66:8) resonates antithetically with the inappropriate attitude of the prophet's two wives on the occasion of the historical event mentioned in part A.

In addition to the threat of the Torment here below of being repudiated by the prophet if they do not repent in A, the wives are also threatened with the "Fire" in the Hereafter at the beginning of A', taking as an example the wife of Noah and Lot. The parallel between the mention of the "Prophet" (in verse 1), and the use of the words "virtuous and servants" (in verse 10) is highly suggestive.

In antithesis to this first example from the past, the Qur'an evokes the blessed fate of a wife of an unjust king (in the person of Pharaoh).

Finally, the Qur'an ends the sura with the figure of Mary, a symbol of devotion to her lord, entirely devoted to him and never deflowered. She is this symbol of the perfect pious woman, before becoming a wife.

The final words "preserved her genital orifice" and "devotees" in verse 12 which close part A', and echo, in parallel, the end of part A ("devotees" and "virgins" in verse 5).

The initial term "O Prophet", which is highlighted in green in the text, and which begins the beginning of parts A and A', also links Sura 66 with Sura 65, of which it forms a "structural and thematic pair". Sura 65, taken as a whole, is not structured in three parts like Sura 66, but, interestingly, the structure of the two large parts that compose it (1-7 and 8-12) is made on the same concentric model: A - X - A'.

Let us also underline the structuring role of the term "light" which links the two suras and highlighted in yellow in both texts. God's verses lead us from darkness to light (65:11), the purpose of which is to accompany us and illuminate the path that leads the faithful believers of the word to Paradise (65:8).

Finally, we can notice that the only sura, with the one numbered 66, which begins with the initial term "O Prophet" is the sura numbered 33 (called "the coalition"), which is exactly the numerical half of the sura 66 ($66:2 = 33$)! Sura 33, like Sura 66, evokes the theme of the inappropriate attitude of the Prophet's wives from verse [33:28] ...

Finally, Sura 65 and 66 have the same number of verses (12) which is an additional element reinforcing their textual proximities.

Sura 67 - Al-Mulk (The Royalty)

A

1. Exalted be He in Whose hands is the Royalty (1), and He over all things hath Power (2).
2. He Who CONCEIVED Death and Life, that He may try which of you is best in deed. And He is the Exalted in Might (1), Oft-Forgiving (2).
3. He Who CONCEIVED the seven heavens one above another. [1] No want of proportion wilt thou see in the Creation of the Gracious. So turn thy vision again: seest thou any flaw?
4. Again, turn thy vision a second time: (thy) vision will come back to thee dull and discomfited, In a state worn out.
5. And We have adorned the nearest heaven by means of lighted wicks⁴⁵, And We have made such (lighted wicks) (as) missiles to drive away devils⁴⁶. And have prepared for them the Chastisement of the Blazing Fire.

Composition

The rhetorical analysis leads to a division into three main parts (1-11; 12-15; 16-30), itself arranged concentrically (A - B - X - B' - A').

Two main themes are taken up in each of these three main parts:

- ✓ The theme of the full royalty of our Master on Earth as in Heaven (A; A'; verses 13 to 15 of X)
- ✓ The reward of our conduct in this world from three angles: the Torment in this world and in the Hereafter, and the reward for those who have been careful. (B; B'; verse 12 of X)

Some additional thoughts:

1) Verses 13-15 also refer to the theme of heaven (13-14) and earth (15). The reference to heaven is less obvious and is implied. In fact, the words of men go up to God whose presence (symbolically?) is in Heaven (cf. verses 16 and 17). Moreover, this absolute knowledge of God echoes the beginning of the next sura (68), where the angels note the acts/speech of men. The center of Sura 67 is thus connected with the beginning of Sura 68 (according to the third law of Lund).

2) Verses 3 to 5 deal with rebellious humans (3-4) and devil-jinns (5) respectively. In a parallel manner, these rebellious humans like the devils (jinn) experience humiliation before the divine power.

Ancient Astronomy:

« In addition to the celestial vault composed of stars whose organization seemed fixed, Babylonian astronomers had quickly noticed seven other bodies whose movement was not slaved to it, and sometimes even retrograde: the Sun, the Moon, Mercury, Venus, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn.

In order to explain their movements, they had associated a "sky" to each one. This vision of things was taken up by Ptolemy and lasted until Nicolas Copernicus" (source modified from Wikipedia).

The Qur'an repeats this ancient view, especially in Surah a-Talaq [65:12]:

"God who created seven heavens and as many earths (= and the number of equivalent earths)".

Moreover, the terms tarā (twice) and that of l-baṣāra (three times), which appear in verses 3 and 4, belong to the semantic field of "seeing by the eye." This indicates beyond doubt that the seven heavens are certainly observable from a Qur'anic perspective. This means that we can observe the seven heavens here on earth with the naked eye, just as it was for the Arabs in the early 7th century.

Additional remark:

With this subject, we can measure the importance of historically contextualizing the appearance of a sacred text to understand its fundamental/primary meaning.

Without this salutary backward glance (although one must have the material and intellectual means to do so), one can easily fall into anachronism. Thus, modern readers have suggested that the word "seven" in the expression "seven heavens" refers to the following realities:

- ✓ Seven = multiple.
- ✓ Seven universes.
- ✓ Seven layers of the Earth's atmosphere etc.

The Qur'an is not a book of science in the modern sense of the word.

The Qur'an speaks of the natural world mainly from an earthly point of view, from things that man can easily observe and meditate upon. That is why throughout the Qur'an, when it talks about the sun, the moon, the clouds, the mountains, the rivers, the stars, the separation of bodies of water, embryology and even cosmology, all these elements are oriented from an earthly point of view, simply so that man can appreciate God's design.

⁵³ "This is the first occurrence of the term muslimun (sing. muslim) in the history of Qur'anic revelation. Throughout this book, I have translated the terms muslim and Islam in accordance with their original connotations, namely "one who surrenders [or "has surrendered"] to God", and "man's self-surrender to God"; the same applies to all forms of the verb aslama that appear in the Qur'an. It should be kept in mind that the 'institutionalized' use of these terms - that is, their exclusive application to the followers of the Prophet Muhammad - represents a definite post-Quranic development and should therefore be avoided in a translation of the Quran." (Muhammad Asad in "The Message Of Quran")

⁵⁴ Litt., "On the day when the shin/leg will be exposed": that is, when man's deepest thoughts, feelings and motivations will be exposed, on the dreadful day of the last judgment.

⁵⁶ Cf. [37:143] - "if he had not been one of those who [even in the deep darkness of their distress are able to] extol the unlimited glory of God": that is, who always remember God and pray for his forgiveness.

⁵⁷ The evil eye that causes bad luck -> God intervenes here as a protector against this kind of practice.

Composition

The rhetorical analysis leads to a division into three main parts (1-34; 35-47; 48-52), itself arranged concentrically (A - B - X - B' - A').

Chronologically, this is the first appearance of one of the "disjointed" [i.e. unique] letters (al-muqatta'at) that precede several suras in the Quran. Their presence has been the subject of various theories. But perhaps the mystery surrounding them is the main purpose of their presence, as a sign of our limited knowledge that God has willed to us.

However, it is interesting to note that these letters precede the mention of the Holy Scripture directly or indirectly through its Recitation. Indeed, these letters (which are all represented) are the elementary bricks of the Arabic language and alphabet.

Additional study:

"Some exegesis assimilate the Arabic letter noun, a semicircle overhung by a point, to the inkwell.

In his treatise entitled "The Book of the Mîm, the Wâw and the Nûn", the mystical philosopher Muhyiddîn Ibn Arabi writes: "The initial nûn is traditionally considered as a designation of the Inkwell which contains the principal ink by means of which the Calamus traces distinctly the letters of the writing".

It also reminds us of the prophetic statement that the Calamus is the first thing created, and then the Nûn which is the inkwell "; and that is His word".

The word noun is also related to fish and usually refers to a whale or sperm whale in Arabic. It is for this reason that the Prophet Jonah is nicknamed in the Qur'an "Dhou-Noun". [21:87-88]

In the journey of Sidna Younes, the entrails of the fish become the place of all transformations, an abode and place of purification, basically announcing a renewal. Hence the assimilation of the letter noun, also by its form, to the ark and the associated symbols relating to rebirth.

In Aramaic, the word Noun already defines the fish or the serpent. This form of snake is found in the protosinaïtic characters representing the letter and then in the Phoenician alphabet, ancestor of the Greek letter nu and the N of the Latin alphabet." ([source)

Thus, the reference to the Pen and Jonah frames the sura.

PRESENT :
Controversy over the truthfulness of the Quran and final threat...

Composition

The rhetorical analysis leads to a division into three parts, arranged concentrically (A - X - A'), with an introductory incipit (1-3).

Two parts (4-12 and 38-52) frame a central part (13-37). These three parts are themselves divided into three thematic sub-parts; with for the central part two parallel and antithetical sub-parts (19-24 // 25-37), which oppose the fates reserved for the charitable believers versus the ungrateful impious.

Moreover, this arrangement of the sura is clearly oriented by the number 3 (3 main parts, themselves arranged in 3 subparts), and resonate with the introductory incipit (1-3), where the same word ("l-hāqatu/The inevitable thing") is repeated three times.

It is interesting to note the logical sequence of the treatment of the ungodly in passage [A] (verses 4-12). There is no human remnant of the catastrophe that destroyed the people of the Thamūd and the Ād ("Do you now see any remnant of them?"). Then the Qur'an deals with the fate of Pharaoh, of which there is a remnant of him, as a proof of his destruction by the Divine. And this destruction took place with water. It is therefore logical that the fate of the people of Noah, destroyed by water, is mentioned as a third example.

On the other hand, the passage [A] could be split into 2 main parts:

- ✓ Verses 4 to 8: it is a question of ancient Arab peoples whose loss can be seen by the primary audience. Thus, this section ends with the lexical field of vision: "Then seest thou any of them left surviving?"
- ✓ Verses 9 to 12: it is a question of biblical history, the accounts of which reached the ears of the Arabs who remained pagan via contact with the monotheistic religions. Thus, this part ends with the lexical field of hearing: "In order to make it a reminder for you, that every attentive ear remembers".

Note that the first two verses of passage [A'] repeat the alternation of vision/non-vision discussed in part [A]:

"[69:38] So I do call to witness what ye see " --> correspondence with verses 4 to 8.

"[69:39] And what ye see not " --> correspondence with verses 9 to 12 (while also making the connection with the central passage [X] which speaks of the Day of Resurrection being veiled).

Attached is the more detailed rhetorical analysis of the passage from verse 25 to verse 37, the theme of which is "Judgment and Retribution of the ungrateful denier»:

This section has two parts (25-29 and 30-37).

- ✓ The first part (25-29): "Reaction of the unholy to his resurrection and the judgment that is coming".

The first segment (25-26) is a tri-member in the form of AA'B, which evokes the desperate reaction of the unholy having received his register where all his acts of his life here below are recorded.

[25. And he that will be given his Record in his left hand,
He will say: "Ah! Would that my Record had not been given to me!
26. "And that I had never realized how my account (stood)!

27. "Ah! Would that (Death) had made an end of me!
28. "Of no profit to me has been my wealth!
29. "My power has perished from me!"...

The second segment (27-29) is an ABB' tri-member. The unholy man realizes that death is not the end of life, and that what made him proud as a man here on earth by giving him honour, high rank and protection no longer counts in the hereafter.

- ✓ The second part (30-37): "Torment following the judgment (cf. first part)"

The second part (30-37) consists of three concentrically shaped segments: A-X-A'.

Segments A (30-32) and A' (35-37) evoke the Torment suffered in Hell by the ungrateful impious: without protection ("warm friend") in the face of the burning fire ("burn him"). And as if that were not enough, he will be humiliated and brought down to the lowest level [cf. 95:5]:

- A: He will be fettered and bounded like a captive ("Seize" and "bind")
- A': Vile food ("foul pus").

30. (The stern command will say): "Seize ye him, and bind ye him,
31. "And burn ye him in the Blazing Fire.
32. "Further, insert him in a chain, whereof the length is seventy cubits!

33. "This was he that would not believe in God the Most High.
34. "And would not encourage the feeding of the indigent!

35. "So no warm friend/ *ḥamīmun he here this Day.
36. "Nor hath he any food except the foul pus from the washing of wounds,
37. "Which none do eat but those in sin."

The segment in center X (33-34) gives the explanation of the Torment suffered by his action here on earth: They have no really faith in God, are proud and do not practice charity towards the poor.

This action echoes the end of the first part (verses 28 and 29), with antithetical actions (in accordance with Lund's third law of rhetorical analysis: "identical ideas are distributed in such a way as to be found at the extremes and in the center of a system"):

- "My authority" (verse 29) # "God the Greatest!" (verse 33)
- "My wealth" (verse 28) # "did not encourage to feed the needy" (verse 34).

* ḥamīmun = the basic concept of the root is the act of "Heating", which refers to the semantic field of furnace (heat).

Additional point:

This perspective on the two-part structure is also the case in the section from verse 19 to 24, which concerns the recognized believers.:

- ✓ The first part (19-20): « the believer's reaction to his resurrection and the coming judgment »

19. Then he that will be given his Record in his right hand,
He will say: "Ah here! Read ye my Record!
20. "I did really think that my Account would (One Day) reach me!"

- ✓ The second part (19-20): « Reward following the judgment (cf. first part)»

21. And he will be in a life of Bliss, ²² in a Garden on high,
23. The Fruits whereof (will hang in bunches) low and near.
24. " Eat and drink pleasantly for what you have done in the past days."

Composition

The rhetorical analysis leads to a division into three parts, arranged in a concentric way (A - X - A').

Two large parts (1-18 and 36-44) frame a central part (19-35). These three parts are themselves cut into 2 sub-parts: with for the central part (1-35) an introductory incipit (19).

[1]

God, the master of verticality and horizontality as shown in the diagram below:

In short, the master of ALL!

Remarks:

- ✓ The plural associated with the words "East/Levant" and "West/Sunset" is only a stylistic effect to indicate omnipresence, and to agree with the verse [70:3] which is also in the plural. Thus, it means: "the ruler of all the points/spaces of the East and the West".
- ✓ The trilateral root " 'ayn rā jīm" [70:3:4] refers to the notion of elevation in degrees by steps: "he climbed, or ascended, the staircase, or series of steps, and the ladder by means of a ladder" (Lane's Lexicon, page 2048). Its physical expression related to the house is found in verse [43:33].

Sura 70 deals with the 4 main steps of the "Day of Resurrection", but not in the expected order. Indeed, only stage 2 ("procession of the criminals") is described in part A', while the other steps are described in part A:

It is understandable that the stage of the "procession" is evoked at the end of the last part (A'), and not in part A, taking into account the theme of the beginning of part A'. Indeed, an antithetical parallel is drawn between the unholy who mock the truth of the Day of Resurrection and their attitudes on that same day. Thus, as they hastened towards the messenger stooping down and stretching their necks, they will also hasten on the Day of Judgment, stooping down before the humiliation that awaits them in the Hereafter.

Messenger
Powerless

⁵⁹ Translation based essentially on that of Muhammad Habib Shakir.

[1] et [3]

Surahs 71 and 72 form a "structural pair," each divided into two parts, with an introduction in the first part.

Their revelations come at a critical time in the life of Muhammad (pbuh), towards the end of the Meccan period. Indeed, the opposition of the majority of the Meccans was as strong and harsh as ever (cf. the second part of Surah 72), despite years of attempts to win them over to his views. In addition, some of his supporters had to go into exile in Abyssinia. Finally, the attempts to rally people outside the city of Mecca failed as shown by the episode of the unsuccessful preaching at the city of Ta'if and/or at the fair of 'Okaz. The situation thus seems desperate and more precarious than ever.

The Qur'an comforts Muhammad (pbuh) first by giving him the example of Noah who, in mirroring his own experience, failed to convert his people despite his insistence for many years. But he was saved from divine Torment along with a small group of people with him. The threat to the Meccans of Torment here on earth, in addition to that in the Hereafter, is apparent throughout Surah 71.

Then, in the first part of Sura 72, God comforts the prophet by revealing to him that his preaching is not always as futile as he may think, for he was also able to reach invisible beings: the Jinn (first part of Sura 72). This is an encouragement to continue to transmit the Divine messages.

Ibn `Abbas says that in the pre-Islamic days of ignorance when the Arabs had to spend a night in some uninhabited, desolate valley, they would shout out: "We seek refuge of the jinn, who is owner of this valley." In other traditions of the pre-Islamic ignorance also the same thing has been reported frequently. For example, if in a place they ran short of water and fodder, the wandering Bedouins would send one of their men to some other place to see if water and fodder were available; and when they reached the new site under his direction, they would shout out before they halted to pitch the camp: "We seek refuge of the sustainer of this valley so that we may live here in peace from every calamity." They believed that every un-inhabited place was under the control of one or another jinn, and if someone stayed there without seeking his refuge, the jinn would either himself trouble the settlers, or would let others trouble them. These believing jinn are referring to this very thing. They meant that when man, the vicegerent of the earth, started fearing them without any reason, and started seeking their refuge instead of God's, it caused their people to become even more arrogant, haughty and wicked, and they became even more fearless and bold in adopting error and disbelief.

...But Ingratitude HERE BELOW

- [77:2] "And the vehemently winds that blow violently", mowing or harvesting grain that is still green.

- [77:3] "by those who generously scatter", that is, the winds that shake the clouds and make them spread rain abundantly, and generously green the grazing lands.

- [77:4] "and by those who separate with intervals", that is, the winds that separate the clouds and cause the rain to be lightly spread, making the grass so fine that it can be seen from the ground.

These winds indirectly provide the reminder (verse 5 - likened to the water that is thrown down from the sky to sow the earth) that will play the role of judge for Men. Indeed, just as the pasture land, which, dried up at the end of summer, turns green again and comes back to life after a rain, God will make Mankind revive after its death. Faced with these signs, it is up to men to believe or not, and therefore to act accordingly (with the certainty that we will be held accountable for our behaviour).

Nature bears signs. It is up to man to reflect, meditate and learn from them.

- Finally, the passage [77:1-5] recalls the key role given to the winds in the Qur'an (intra textuality):

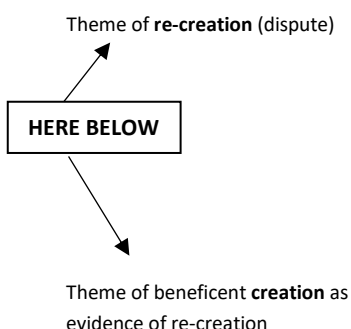

- ✓ [7:57] "It is He who sends forth the winds of foretelling, preceding His mercy. When they bear heavy clouds, We drive them to a dead land, and then We send down water from it, with which We bring forth all kinds of fruit. Thus We will bring forth the dead. Perhaps you will remember. »
- ✓ [2:164] ...in the variation of the winds and in the clouds subject between heaven and earth: in all this there are signs for people who understand.

[78:39] This will be the Day of Truth.
 Then let him who wishes to do so take the way that leads to his Master!

[78:40] We have warned you of a torment near at hand, the day when man will see what his two hands have advanced, and the denier will say, "How I wish I was dust!"

It is interesting to note that the awakening of the dead and the announcement of the day of resurrection will be done by means of the breath in verse [78:18]. And, at the beginning of Sura 77, it is this same breath (wind) that revives the earth, with various fortunes. It also reminds us of the divine breath at work in this world that animates everything that exists.

[2]

Suras 77 and 78 form a "structural pair" (common meta-structure), according to the new rhetorical law that I uncovered with Sura 2 (cf. conclusion – point 3). These suras are made up of two parts, separated by a center (77:14 & 78:17), around which revolves the theme of the couple "belief-unbelief in the day of resurrection". Sura 77 contains an introduction (verses 1 to 6). This introduction does not a priori play any role in deciding whether two of the related textual units are structurally symmetrical or not.

Note the structure of the second part of Sura 77 (verses 15 to 50), which is punctuated by the phrase "Woe on that day to those who cried out in lies ": It is composed of 3 blocks of text (separated by a space), themselves composed of 3 sub-units! Perfect symmetry of structure.

The manifestation of the creative and beneficent omnipotence at work in this world is used as an argument to justify the resurrection of bodies and souls. He who can create all things out of nothing can also bring back to life what has already been. No limits must be placed on the divine will, which is absolute.

The moment of resurrection is divided into 3 main phases:

1. The cosmic cataclysm that sounds the awakening of the dead to go in procession to the place of judgment,
2. The moment of Judgment itself (listening and reading),
3. Retribution (hell or heaven).

Please note that the final reward phase (retribution) is in both cases in the center of a passage. This will be true throughout the Qur'an where the eschatological topic is central, especially in the Mecca period. It is indeed the main contribution of the Quranic discourse to Meccan idolaters. As for God, as a transcendent deity and creator of heaven and earth, he was indeed known and recognized, but he was associated with idols that were mostly honoured.

Sura 79 - An-Nâzi`ât (those that pull out)

Intro

[79:1] By those who pluck, violently! âti / an [79:2] By those who are active, with eagerness! âti / an [79:3] By those who glide, light! âti / an [79:4] and who are ahead first, âti / an [79:5] and carefully apply an order. [1] âti / an

[79:6] On the day when the tremor shakes violently, [79:7] followed by an additional shake.
 [79:8] On this day, hearts are throbbing,
 [79:9] their eyes are humbled.

[79:10] They say, "Will we be brought back to our original state?"
 [79:11] What! When were we rotting bones?"
 [79:12] They said, "Then it would be a lose-lose return!"

[79:13] And verily there is but a unique ringing,
 [79:14] and behold, surprised they wake up.

[79:15] Has the news about Moses reached you?

[79:16] When his Master called him into the sacred valley twice:
 [79:17] "Go to Pharaoh. He transgressed.
 [79:18] And say, "Is there in you the desire to attain great godliness?
 [79:19] I will guide you to your Master so that you may fear Him.
 [79:20] And he showed him the greatest sign.

[79:21] But he denied and disobeyed.
 [79:22] Then he turned his back in anguish.
 [79:23] And he gathered and called,
 [79:24] and he said, "I am your Master, the Highest!"
 [79:25] Then God seized him with an exemplary Torment (for) the last and the first...
 [79:26] Verily in this there is indeed a lesson for the one who fears.

[79:27] Are you harder to create, or the sky that He has built?
 [79:28] He raised its vault and fashioned it.
 [79:29] He darkened its night and made its light come out.

[79:30] And after that He stretched out the earth and made it a flat and smooth surface. [2]
 [79:31] He brought forth water and pasture,
 [79:32] and He anchored the mountains.

[79:33] A livelihood for you and your livestock.

[79:34] Then came the crushing cataclysm,
 [79:35] on the day when Man will remember what he has striven for,
 [79:36] The Furnace will be visible to him who looks.

[79:37] As for the one who transgressed,
 [79:38] and preferred the life here below,
 [79:39] The Furnace is his refuge.

[79:40] As for the one who dreaded appearing before his Master, and preserved his soul from vain desires,
 [79:41] Then truly Paradise is the refuge.

[79:42] They ask you about the Hour: "When will it be anchored?" -âhâ
 [79:43] How could you mention it? -âhâ
 [79:44] To your Master is his term. -âhâ
 [79:45] You are but a warner to him who fears her. -âhâ

[79:46] On the day they see her, it will seem to them, on the day they see it, that they only stayed one evening or morning.

Cf. the parallel with Sura 77 and the evocation of the winds.

This introductory passage is linked to the beginning of the first part (verses 6 to 14) – some thoughts:

- the tearing winds are reminiscent of the earthquake that awakens the dead, torn from their graves and from the earth where they slumbered.

- The winds that first precede divine mercy echo the cry and earthly cataclysm that precede the moment of judgment and retribution etc...

Some, leaning towards Quranic scientism, claim that the description of the shape of the earth is described in this verse. They use the word "dahāhā" from verse [79:30], which would refer to an ostrich egg.

First, the form I verb "dahā" refers to the original idea of "spreading out in a wide and smooth way". This root is also used to refer to the "horse that ran by digging its hooves into the ground", i.e. the ground is soft and supple enough for the horse's hooves to sink into it.

Thus, this Arabic root does not refer to the ostrich egg, but to an ostrich that widens and widens the ground with its foot or leg, at the place (example) where it is about to lay its eggs.

The Envoy, in a conference to convince Mecca leaders, would have evaded, not without irritation, a pious repeated request ("Guide me" or "teach me") from a blind man. God has corrected his attitude: one should not reject a request for divine guidance, because it is addressed to all, even those of modest or weak condition.

Historical reminder: At the beginning of his preaching, and by virtue of the current norms of decorum approved by the Qur'an, the Envoy urges his close relatives - i.e., his paternal uncles - to rally to his divinity (Clan Verse, Sura 26:214). Muhammad's message is addressed first and foremost almost exclusively to his family group, with the utmost respect for the tribal social structure. Moreover, at that time, convincing a chieftain was sure to win over those who were under his dependence or influence.

Safaratin " scribes, secretaries ". Hapax, of Aramaic origin. They are angelic scribes charged with fixing the Revelation in the Celestial Archetype of the Quran. The Arabic recitation of the Prophet is therefore, in this sense, only a reminder of what is on the heavenly tablets, not an innovation.

Recall the same context with Sura 74, where the verses [74:54-55] are identical to the verses [80:11-12]:

[74:49] What do they have to turn away from Remembrance?
[74:50] They are like frightened donkeys,
[74:51] fleeing from a lion.
[74:52] Each one of them would rather be brought unfolded sheets.
[74:53] But no! They do not fear the Hereafter.
[74:54] But no! It is a Reminder.
[74:55] - and anyone who has wanted to, has often remembered it,

Thus, by comparing Sura 80 with Sura 74, the Qur'an confirms that it is indeed mentioned in verse [80:13] of the heavenly Scripture, and that the main subject of the Mecca Reminder concerns the Beyond and the judgment of the acts of men. This reminder must therefore inspire fear in the heart of Man, but not a paralyzing fear but a positively acting fear. The sequence [80:1-16] is thus logically linked to the sequence [80:33-42] which evokes the day of judgment and retribution.

In the historical context, this is not about man in general, but about the prototype of the disobedient, self-righteous and ungrateful notable in the face of the divine message and God's blessings. With a warning effect to humanity.

[4]

Some verses that go in the direction of the interpretation indicated:

- ✓ [76:1] Has not Man undergone a period of time in which he was not even a thing to be mentioned? [76:2] We created man from a drop of mixed sperm. We feel it. We made him hear and see. 76:3] We have guided him in the way, whether he be thankful or ungrateful.
- ✓ [54:22] We have made the Qur'an easy to remember. Is there anyone, then, to remember
- ✓ [44:58] We have made it easy in your tongue only so that they may remember.
- ✓ [19:97] We have made it easy in your language, that you may proclaim it to those who take refuge, and that you may warn a quarrelsome people through it.
